German Reform Paper.

FROM THE SEVENTH OF OCTOBER, 1854, WILL be published at Milwaukee,

Der Corsar

(THE CORSAIR,)

A Weekly Paper, established to forward political reforms, edited by BERNHARD DOMSCHKE, with Dr. L. WITTIG, as a regular contributor.

"Der Corsar" will adhere to the principles set down in the Madison Platform, of the 13th July, '54, and be of course, opposed to those parties who prefer stagnation to reform, and slavery to freedom. And those who take a warm interest in the contest against the reactionary parties and the demagogues, that lead and control them, and in the realization of genuine Republican principles, are invited to subscribe to "Der Corsar."

"Der Corsar" will be published every Saturday, at the price of $2,00 per year, payment in advance every six months. In as much as "Der Corsar" will be widely circulated within the State of Wisconsin as well as abroad, it is well adapted to advertisements, which will be inserted at the usual rates.

INSURANCE OFFICES

Highly Important to Farmers.

The only Exclusive Farmers' Insurance Company in the West.

THE MADISON MUTUAL,

Located at Madison, Wisconsin.

THIS COMPANY CONTINUES TO TAKE RISKS upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible Companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made thereon.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses, but your own or the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops, and such like property. In this Company all such property is rejected POSITIVELY by ACCEPTING THEM ALONE.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of Insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the Company.

MILWAUKEE MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Office in Martin's Block, Milwaukee.

Capital over $165,000—in Cash and Premium Notes.

THIS Company offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered, are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2600 Policies, and made but three assessments or a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar. Its business is principally confined to this State.

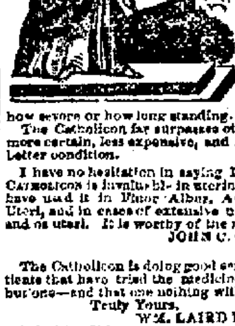
DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S

CELEBRATED CATHOLICON,

For the Relief and Cure of Suffering Females.



IT STANDS PRE-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended usually called

Female Complaints.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites;—CHRONIC INFLAMMATION, AND ULCERATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE, or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted,) no matter how severe or how long standing.

The Catholicon far surpasses other remedies, in being more certain, less expensive, and leaving the system in a better condition.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON is invaluable in uterine diseases generally. I have used it in Fluor Albus, Amenorrhœa, Prolapsus Uteri, and in cases of extensive ulceration of the vagina and os uteri. It is worthy of the notice of the Faculty.
JOHN C. ORRICK, M. D.,
Baltimore, Md.

The Catholicon is doing good service here. All the patients that have tried the medicine have been benefited but one—and that one nothing will help.
Truly Yours,
WM. LAIRD HAZLETT, M. D.,
July 6th, 1854. New Philadelphia, Ohio.

I must say, from my own experience and personal observation in my practice, it has proved to be the best and safest remedy for the difficulties for which it is recommended, viz: that of female weakness, such as Prolapsus Uteri, Fluor Albus, and all irregular and painful menstruation, and diseases of irritation of the female organs.
D. Y. FOOTE, M. D.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

Those needing such a remedy should inquire into the merits of this medicine, and by calling at the store of the undersigned can obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

German Reform Paper.

FROM THE SEVENTH OF OCTOBER, 1854, WILL be published at Milwaukee,

Der Corsar

(THE CORSAIR,)

A Weekly Paper, established to forward political reforms, edited by BERNHARD DOMSCHKE, with Mr. L. WITTIG, as a regular contributor.

"Der Corsar" will adhere to the principles set down in the Madison Platform, of the 13th July, '54, and be of course, opposed to those parties who prefer stagnancy to reform, and slavery to freedom. And those who take a warm interest in the contest against the reactionary parties and the demagogues, that lead and control them, and in the realization of genuine Republican principles, are invited to subscribe to "Der Corsar."

"Der Corsar" will be published every Saturday, at the price of $2,00 per year, payment in advance every six months. In as much as "Der Corsar" will be widely circulated within the State of Wisconsin as well as abroad, it is well adapted to advertisements, which will be inserted at the usual rates.

INSURANCE OFFICES

Highly Important to Farmers.

The only Exclusive Farmers' Insurance Company in the West.

THE MADISON MUTUAL,

Located at Madison, Wisconsin.

THIS COMPANY CONTINUES TO TAKE RISKS upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible Companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made thereof.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses, only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops, and such like property. In this Company all such property is rejected POSITIVELY BY [illegible] ALONE.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the Company.

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Office in Martin's Block, Milwaukee.

Capital over $135,000—in Cash and Premium Notes.

THIS Company offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered, are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2600 Policies, and made but three assessments or a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar. Its business is principally confined to this State.

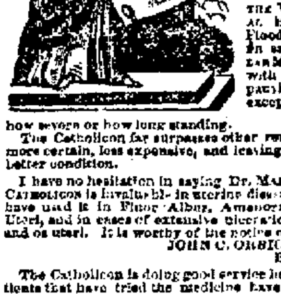
DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S

CELEBRATED CATHOLICON,

For the Relief and Cure of Suffering Females.



IT STANDS PRE-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended usually called

Female Complaints.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites;—CHRONIC INFLAMMATION, AND ULCERATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE OR Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted,) no matter how severe or how long standing.

The Catholicon far surpasses other remedies, in being more certain, less expensive, and leaving the system in a better condition.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon is invaluable in uterine diseases generally. I have used it in Fluor Albus, Amenorrhœa, Prolapsus Uteri, and in cases of extensive ulceration of the vagina and os uteri. It is worthy of the notice of the Faculty.

I must say, from my own experience and personal observations in my practice, it has proved to be the best and safest remedy for the difficulties for which it is recommended, viz: that of female weakness, such as Prolapsus Uteri, Fluor Albus, and all irregular and painful menstruation, and diseases of irritation of the female organs.

From Madison.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Madison, Jan. 24.

A Republican Caucus is called for this evening in the Senate Chamber, and it is quite probable that a candidate for U. S. Senator may be agreed upon.

In Senate this morning, there was not much of interest, beyond the passage of the bills, a list of which I have sent this afternoon. Mr. Bowen introduced a resolution against the payment of extra clerk-hire from the Treasury. Mr. Worthington, from the Committee on Agriculture &c., reported in favor of a memorial to Congress against the renewing of the Reaper patents of McCormick, Moore & Haskell, and Hussey.

In Assembly a communication was received from the publishers of the Supreme Court Reports, asking to be heard before Committee, inasmuch as the Governor had sent in to them his side of the story. Leave was granted, and the matter was referred to the Committee on claims.

The State Treasurer sent in a statement of the amount of fines, penalties, &c., paid in by the agents appointed by the Governor. The amount is $1,519,73, returned by 9 of the agents. On motion of Mr. Hull, the statement was referred to Committee, with instructions to enquire whether any of the agents have failed to make returns, and whether any proceedings are necessary.—(These agents were paid 30 per cent, under the law.)

Petitions were presented:

By Mr. Davis for a ferry charter across the Wisconsin river.

By Mr. Taylor, concerning a Sch. of District in Hazel Green.

By Mr. Topliff, for a State Road.

By Mr. H. Grant, for a new town in Waushara Co.

Bills were introduced as follows:

By Mr. Stevens, charter of La Crosse & Black River Falls R. R. Co.—referred to Committee on corporations.

By Mr. Van Nostrand, relative to certain School lands—referred to a select committee.

Mr. Randall, from the Judiciary Committee, reported in favor of sending copies of documents to the N Y Law Institute. Also favorably on the bill changing the time of holding courts in Portage and Marathon counties. The bill passed, the rules being suspended. Reports were made by Mr. Virgin, from committee on Education &c, and by Mr. DeWolf from committee on Engrossed Bills.

Under the head of "bills on their 3d reading," a large number of bills passed, the titles or subjects of which I have already sent. The bill abolishing the Emigrant Agency, coming up, Mr. Vilas asked that somebody should state the facts, calling for the proposed bill. Mr. Martin stated that portion of the Governor's Message relating to the subject was referred to the Committee on State Affairs, who thought the Agency a useless expense, and have reported the bill. Mr. Hull said that he had been, last winter, of the opinion that the Agency should be continued, but had changed his sentiments upon the subject. The thing was so nearly dead that nobody thought it worth while to speak at any length about it, and the Ayes and Noes showed 75 in favor of passing the bill, to 5 against the Noes being Messrs Fisher, Juneau, Ruan, Stevens and Vliet.

You will have noticed among the bills passed one suspending the sale of school lands, except to actual settlers. It is intended to choke off the speculators, until there is an opportunity to pass a proper bill regulating the sales in future.

The bill declaring the Wauwandee river a public highway being on its passage, Mr. Bennett proposed to amend it by inserting a provision guarding the private rights of other parties, who might be interested, beyond the mill owners who ask for the bill. Mr. Stevens seemed quite indignant at this, and bore down upon Mr. Bennett quite sharply for interfering in a private matter of his constituents. The latter stood it very composedly, giving some reasons for his course. He might have gone further, and claimed the right of enquiring into the propriety of any bill for which he is asked to vote. One of the greatest curses to our State has been this custom of taking the propriety of bills for granted, thus making each member a small legislature in himself. It was by just such careless legislation that the Insane Asylum Bill passed last winter, putting the state in for $200,000 and over, unless some means can be found of breaking the contract.

After going through the file of bills in Committee of the Whole the following bills were ordered engrossed:

Two authorizing ferries.
Charter of Beloit Gas Co.
Extending the time of collecting taxes in Madison.

The bill chartering the Janesville Collegiate Institute was laid on the table, to await the action of the Judiciary Committee, who are preparing a general law.

The appropriation of $242,82 to Lt. Gov. Lewis, was for his services as Acting Governor, while Gov. Barstow was off at Washington, "giving Noonan a turn."

In answer to a resolution of enquiry, the Attorney General sent in copies of a correspondence between Commissioner Starks and himself relative to the construction of a part of the State Prison contract. The Commissioner innocently asks whether, as the contractor claims, he shall allow the latter 3 cents per pound for placing the iron work where it belongs in the prison, (that is, I suppose, if a door weighs 200lbs, $6,00 is to be paid for hanging it.) The Attorney General answers that he thinks it all right. Of course he does, and the great probability is that his construction is right.

The select committee on the Fox and Wisconsin River Improvement was announced—Messrs Topliff, Ebbetts, Hull, Judson and Gary.

The Lunatic Commissioners sent in a claim, for $25,00, for furnishing the Legislature with a copy of the contract yesterday. Cool!

Sundry amendments were made to the three bills, chartering the Baptist Educational institutions in this State.

A Message from the Governor, communicated the results of the mission of Messrs. H. T. Sanders and A. Kiner to the eastward, to buy books for the State Library, the former for Law Books, and the latter for Miscellaneous works. Mr. Sanders bought books to the amount of $1501,00, for which service he was paid $200, and Mr. Kiner, the State Librarian, bought $913,00 dollars worth, for which service he was paid $150,00. There seems to be a balance of $118 75 still remaining of the appropriation.

We have learned the facts of the imprisonment of the persons convicted of having souls, in the Federal Court. I am not able to find any person after diligent search, who thinks any the less of them for being confined among felons in the county jail; or any more of the iniquitous Law or its administrators. The resolution that Wisconsin shall be freed from all connection with slavery is stronger every day.

W. H. W.

LEGISLATIVE.—Both branches of the Legislature accomplished a good forenoon's work yesterday, and adjourned over after having cleared the clerk's desks of business. We have never known a Legislature finish up its work as prompt as the present. The table is cleared every day.—Madison Journal.

A FRENCH RAILROAD.—Dick Tinto, in the New York Times, furnishes the following item:

"On the Railroad between Paris and Lyons they travel a mile a minute, on the average.—There is a resident guard at every mile, occupying a stone two story house, built by the railroad upon its own territory. There are four hundred miles of rail, with 400 responsible inmates, for the most part raising families and cultivating ornamental patches. The most serious accident that ever occurs is that an axletree gets hot."

SUNDAY DRINKING PLACES.—The proprietors of nearly all the large hotels have given orders to have their bars closed on Sunday. The Astor, St. Nicholas, Irving, and in fact all the prominent hotels have agreed to do so, thus aiding Mayor Wood in his reform.—[N. Y. Mirror.

SPEECH OF BYRON PAINE,

In Defence of S. M. Booth, Indicted for Aiding in the Escape of a Fugitive Slave, Joshua Glover.

Delivered before the U. S. Court, Jan. 12, 1855.

[CONCLUDED.]

On the argument of the motion in arrest in the Rycraft case, my friend, Mr. Ryan, referred to the common law offence of rescue, in which it is sufficient to prove the warrant, the arrest and the rescue. And he claimed, that, reasoning by analogy, that would be sufficient under that Act. I cannot so regard it. At common law and under the English Statutes, it was felony to aid in the escape of a prisoner "charged with felony." 1st Russell on Crimes, 434. Roscoe's Crim. Ev. 678-9. Proof therefore, that the party aided, was in custody "charged with felony" brought the defendant within the very terms of the law. The question of guilt was immaterial. But suppose the words of the law had punished the rescue of a prisoner guilty of felony? There the analogy would exist. And no lawyer could for a moment pretend that under such a law, it would not be necessary to allege and prove the guilt of the party rescued. And even at common law and under the English Statutes, the rescuer, though he might be indicted, yet could not be tried, until the party rescued was attainted. Roscoe's Crim. Ev. 579. Showing that the punishment of the rescuer as a felon, was after all held to be dependent on the guilt of the principal. It is clear therefore to my mind, that there is no analogy to be found in the provisions of the common law, from which any reason can be drawn sustaining these counts. But that in fact they teach a contrary conclusion. For they teach that the defendant must, by the indictment, be brought within the terms of the law, whatever those terms may be. And it would be a very strange and unwarranted inference, that because under a law punishing the rescue of a person charged with crime, it would be sufficient to prove the rescue of such a person, that therefore under an act punishing the rescue of a person owing service or labor, it would be sufficient to prove merely the rescue of a person claimed as such.

There is abundance of materials from which to draw illustrations of this position. Under Statutes punishing embezzlement by any servant or person acting in the capacity of a servant, it is necessary to allege and prove that the defendant was a servant, and acted in that capacity. Arch. Crim. Pleading, 131 2, 2d Russell on Crimes, 164 167-172. In some cases though the act was clearly proved, the prisoners escaped because it appeared that they were not servants. It would not do to say they had done wrong;—that if people were allowed to embezzle, nobody would be safe. That was not the question. But the question was whether they were brought within the terms of the Act under which they were indicted. So in the 2d U. S. Digest, page 521, sec 64, there is the following reference.

An indictment against a slave for the murder of his master, must allege that the master was a free person, to bring the case within the Statute of Alabama of 1814, which provides that, 'any slave found guilty of the manslaughter of any free person shall on conviction suffer death.'—State vs. Moses, Minor, 393

So on page 525, Sec. 183, there is this reference:

"An indictment on the statute the owner or tenant of land liable for obstructing a highway must aver that the defendant was owner or tenant. Gregory vs. Commonwealth. 2d Dana 417.

And it is an invariable rule, against which not an authority can be found, that whenever a statute punishes a person of a particular class for doing any act, indictments under that statute must aver that the defendant belonged to that class. And whenever a statute punishes any person who does certain acts to or with another of a particular class, the indictment must allege that the defendant did the acts to, or with a person of that particular class.

The defendant would have had the right to show by evidence that Glover was free, and thus that he did not commit the offence described in the statute. A person indicted for receiving stolen property, may on the trial controvert the guilt of the principal felon, and this even after the principal had been convicted. Because it being res inter alias acta, the receiver is not bound by it. Roscoe's Crim Ev 877. Therefor, reasoning by analogy, the defendant here would have been entitled to prove that Glover was free, even after the examination and a decision against him.—But there being no allegation to the contrary, the presumption is that he was free, and therefore it it is to be viewed in the same light, as if there were a positive allegation in the indictment to that effect.

But there is another view of this matter, derived from the act itself, which it seems to me settles this question beyond the possibility of a doubt, if there were such possibility before. Suppose that Garland had arrested Glover without process, as he might under the Act? Suppose the defendant had aided Glover to escape from his custody. Would this Court—could this Court hold for a moment, that to sustain an indictment for that act, it would be sufficient to allege that Garland seized Glover, without process, as his slave, and that the defendant aided in the escape. Such an idea would be monstrous. Glover might have been free, and Garland a trespasser, in which case it would have been entirely lawful to aid the escape. Such a construction could not be tolerated for an instant. And yet it would be just as correct as to sustain these counts. For as far as the offence against this act is concerned, it makes no difference whether the escape be from an officer with process, or from the claimant without. The Act punishes the aiding in the escape from the claimant, his agent, or attorney, or other person lawfully authorized to assist him. An escape from the officer can only be held an offence at all, by regarding the officer as the agent of the claimant, or the person assisting him. And does the agent take precedence of the principal? Can a court say that it would have been necessary to prove that Glover was a fugitive from labor, if the escape had been from Garland, and yet not necessary when it was from an officer acting as Garland's agent? By what possible reasoning could such a pretence be sustained? The indictment would in both cases be drawn on precisely the same words of the Act. Those words are not changed by changing the person from whom the escape is effected. Yet the construction asked for by the prosecution would do this: It would give such mighty magic to an officer with process, as to subvert and annihilate not only the oldest rules of criminal law, but also the plain words of an Act of Congress.

We admit that so far as the offence charged in the first counts is concerned, the question of Glover's servitude is immaterial. If the officer had process and was resisted, it was immaterial what the process was. That would have been an offence against the act of 1790, punishing resistance to an officer. But under the 7th section of the Fugitive Slave Act, there is no distinction between an escape from an officer with process, and one from the claimant without.

Mr. Ryan referred to the eighth section, which speaks of "such supposed fugitive." But that refers only to the fees of the Marshal, and applies expressly to the case of a discharge on the examination. Then it would be proper to speak of the person discharged as a "supposed fugitive." But no rational inference can be drawn from the fact that because the legislature, referring expressly to a case of discharge, speaks of "a supposed fugitive" in the 8th section, that therefore they meant a "supposed fugitive" only in the 7th section, where the language requires an actual fugitive. But in truth a contrary presumption is to be derived from it. For it shows that they well understood the distinction between a supposed fugitive, and an actual fugitive, and that when they spoke of the one they did not mean the other. And the case of the United States, vs. Wiltberger, to which I have before referred, is an authority directly in point, against this attempted construction. For in that case it was held that, where a statute in one section punishes manslaughter on the high seas, and in other sections punishes murder in rivers, basins, &c., inasmuch as the Legislature had used words descriptive of the place, where the offence could be committed, in the section creating it, they must be presumed to have intended that place only. And that the court could not transfer to that section descriptive words used in other sections not referred to, so as to make the offence of manslaughter punishable, when committed in a place other than that described in the section creating the offence.

There are no authorities in favor of the construction asked for here, except some intimations of Judge Nelson in the Enoch Reed Case. The Court has mentioned some intimations in the Morris Case decided by Judge Curtis. But I read that case very carefully a day or two since, and I find no intimations sustaining this construction in the slightest. He says that in the first four counts, there was an allegation that Shadrach owed service. There may be from this an inference that there were some counts in which this allegation was not made. But there is no intimation that such counts would be sufficient. And there is nothing that appears in the case to show that the other counts, were framed under the Fugitive Act, or that they were not like the others in this indictment, for resisting an officer.

And why did the prosecutors make the allegation in the first four counts, if they did not believe it to be necessary?

It rests entirely, upon the intimations of Judge Nelson. Those intimations were given in passing on the competence of certain proof before the Grand Jury. The question as to the sufficiency of the Counts had not been raised or argued. And it would be unjust, even to Judge Nelson to hold, that, because, in disposing of a preliminary question, he gave some intimations sustaining such counts, he would therefore deliberately, after examination, assent to such a violation of the plainest rule of law. His remarks on the subject are few. They are loose and general,—more so than any reasoning I ever saw upon a criminal statute. In fact he makes no effort to show that the words of the Act include the offence charged, but says generally, that if the officer issuing the warrant had jurisdiction, then the Marshal must be protected. That no body has a right to rescue persons lawfully in the custody of the Marshal. We admit that the Marshal must be protected, and there is a statute to protect him. The Act of 1790 punishes any person who resists him in the execution of process. That is ample for his protection.

It seems to be assumed on the other side, that after the escape, it is forever impossible to prove the fact of owing service. That is not so. They can prove it still. They did prove it in the Morris case. If they wish to convict men under this Act, let them bring forward the proof and show that they have violated it.

But is this a question of protecting the Marshal, or of construing an Act of Congress? If the words of the Act do not include the offence, has the Court a right to include it so as to protect the Marshal? That is legislation. That is making law and not deciding it. Such a course is in direct violation of the decisions I have read.

I trust, therefore, that these intimations of Judge Nelson, are not to overthrow all the rules established since criminal law has been a science. For one or the other must fall. They are in direct conflict. We believe this matter to be almost too plain for argument. That it is not a question on which reason can pause, but that any mind capable of understanding language, and of applying a plain and simple rule of law, is forced inevitably, however unwilling it may be, to the conclusion that these Counts are entirely defective.

When laws are passed, harsh, odious and cruel and Courts tell us that they are bound to enforce those laws, whatever may be their individual opinions, that position we respect. But what can be said, when in violation of all the rules of law,—in violation of the words of those Acts themselves, Courts go beyond their provisions and punish Acts not included in them? It is an awful responsibility to assume, to punish a man guilty of no crime known to the law, in the midst of a people whose forbearance has been stretched to its utmost limit, by the provisions of the Act when construed as favorably as possible.

I have, now, gentlemen, finished my argument to the Court, asking it to instruct you that you cannot convict the defendant on the last two counts, for want of any allegation that Glover was a fugitive from labor. But even if the Court should refuse so to instruct you—even if it had been proved that the defendant broke the jail, and that Glover was a slave, still you cannot convict this defendant. It is not enough in trying an indictment to prove that the defendant has committed some offence. It must be proved that he committed the offence charged. Thus if a man be indicted for stealing the property of A, and on the trial it is proved that he stole the property, but that it belonged to B, he must go acquit.—For although it is just as wrong to steal the property of B as that of A, still that is not the offence charged. And every man at all familiar with the administration of the law, knows that many criminals have gone free on account of a slight variance between the allegations and the proof.

Let us apply the same rule here. The offence charged is not only that the defendant aided Glover to escape, but that he aided him to escape from the custody of Charles C. Cotton. If, therefore, the proof shows that he escaped from the custody of somebody else, the defendant must be acquitted. We contend that the proof shows just such a state of facts. Cotton brought Glover to this city and committed him to jail early in the morning. At about 2 o'clock he returned his warrant. That is the last we hear of him. The rescue was effected from the jail at about sundown. We say that this evidence shows that Glover was rescued from the custody of the State Jailor. And in support of this position I will read you the law of this State on that subject. The first section to which I ask your attention is the 83d Section of Chapter 10 of the Revised Statutes. It is as follows:

"The Sheriff shall have the charge and custody of the jails of his county, and of the prisoners of the same, and shall keep them himself, or by his deputy or jailor, for whose acts he and his sureties shall be responsible."

This gives the Sheriff of the county the custody of all prisoners in the jail and of the jail itself; and requires him to keep them himself, or by some person selected by him. You see therefore that no other person than the sheriff can have lawful custody of the jail or the prisoners in it.

The section under which Glover was committed, was one passed in accordance with a resolution of Congress, recommending the passage of laws by the states, allowing their jails and prisons to be used by the United States. It is as follows.

"All Sheriffs, jailors, prison keepers, and their and each and every of their deputies, within this State, to whom any person or persons shall be sent or committed, by virtue of legal process issued by or under the authority of the United States, shall be and they are hereby enjoined and required to receive such persons into custody, and to keep them safely, until they be discharged by due course of the laws of the United States; and all such Sheriffs, jailors, prison keepers and their deputies, offending in the premises, shall be liable to the same pains and penalties, and the parties aggrieved shall be entitled to the same remedies against them, or any of them, as if such prisoners had been committed to their custody by virtue of legal process issued under the authority of this State."

Gentlemen, you see that this law expressly requires the state officer to receive the U. States prisoner "into his custody, and to keep him safely," &c. Now the U. S. officers were not obliged to avail themselves of this statute. They might have kept their prisoner elsewhere if they had chosen. But they did not. They chose to commit him to the custody of the State officer, and after having done so they cannot now deny that he was in State custody. Both the fact and the law show, therefore, that the escape was from the custody of the State jailor, and not from that of Charles C. Cotton, and therefore the defendant must go acquit.

If the Court please, I have a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, that I think is directly in point. It is the case of Randolph vs. Donaldson, 7th Cranch, 76. It was an action of debt against the Marshal of the U. States, for the escape of a prisoner who had been committed to the State jail. The Court gave a decision of which the following is a part:

"The act of Congress of 24th September, 1789, Ch. 20, Sec. 27 and 28, authorizes the marshals of the several districts of the United States to appoint deputies, and declares them responsible for the defaults and misfeasances in office of such deputies. But there is no provision in any act of Congress declaring the keepers of state jails, quoad prisoners in custody under process of the United States, to be deputies of the marshals, or making the latter liable for escapes committed by the negligence or malfeasance of the former. If, therefore, the marshals be so liable, it is an inference from the general powers and duties annexed to their office.

"It is argued that the marshals are so liable because, in intendment of law, prisoners committed to state jails are still deemed to be in their custody; and in support of this argument is cited the provision in the act of congress, which makes the marshal, on the removal from or the expiration of his office responsible for the delivery to his successor of all prisoners in his custody, and authorizes him for that purpose, to retain such prisoners in his custody until his successor is appointed. And this argument is further supported by its analogy to the case of sheriffs, and by the extreme inconvenience which, it is asserted, would arise from a contrary doctrine.

"The argument is not without weight; but, upon mature consideration, we are of opinion that it cannot prevail. The act of congress has limited the responsibility of the marshal to his own acts and the acts of his deputies. The keeper of a state jail is neither in fact nor in law the deputy of the marshal. He is not appointed by, not removable at the will of the marshal. When a prisoner is regularly committed to a state jail by the marshal, he is no longer in the custody of the marshal, nor controllable by him.—The marshal has no authority to command or direct the keeper in respect to the nature of the imprisonment. The keeper becomes responsible for his own acts, and may expose himself by misconduct to the "pains and penalties" of the law. For certain purposes, and to certain intents, the state jail lawfully used by the United States may be deemed to be the jail of the United States, and the keeper to be keeper of the United States. But this would no more make the marshal liable for his acts than for the acts of any other officer of the United States, whose appointment is altogether independent."

Here, then, is a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, showing that Glover was in the custody of the state jailor, and not in the custody of the Marshal.

The fact that Cotton sent two men there "to take care of Glover," and that Connover told them to take care of him, does not detract from the force of this position. They had no key, no control of the jail or of the prisoners in it.—Cotton could give them no such control. He cannot supersede the state laws, or appoint keepers to the prisoners in the state jails. He might take the prisoner out of the jail, but he could not govern or direct as to his keeping while in, and so the Supreme Court decides.

I say, therefore, that there is a fatal variance between the allegations and the proof. And I ask you, Gentlemen of the Jury, if when the murderer goes acquit for a trifling variance—when the robber and assassin are turned loose upon community, to go unwhipped of justice because there is some slight defect in the proof, will a jury of freemen go beyond the proof, to convict one of their fellow citizens, under a law that punishes mercy and humanity as a crime? Can you desire to convict if you can possibly acquit? I cannot believe it. But I believe that when men will attempt to enforce infamous and cruel laws, that punish justice and mercy, a jury, will hold them to the strictest proof, and will not convict, when there is a plain variance sufficient even to let the murderer go free.

I have now, Gentlemen, presented as fully as I intended, the reasons why we claim of your consciences, a verdict of acquittal for this defendant. But there are one or two subjects to which I will allude before closing, as I apprehend they may be commented on by my learned friend, who is to follow me. He may perhaps allude to the fanaticism of those whose opinions are similar to the defendant's. If it should be done, I trust that the day has gone by when the cry of fanaticism, which has been raised against every truth and every reform that ever contributed to the advancement and happiness of man, is to close the minds of a jury against a full and fair examination of the great issue before them. I understand fanaticism to be an excessive devotion to one's opinions. If those opinions are right, this fanaticism or devotion, furnishes the zeal and courage which lead men to grapple with the mighty elements of opposition, which the cause of truth meets in the world, and to bear it onward in the paths of progress. If those opinions are wrong, this same fanaticism furnishes the zeal which scatters error and destruction abroad.—If it be fanaticism to hate tyranny from the inmost soul; to feel the blood rush warmer from the heart at the sight of cruelty and injustice; to feel a living faith in the great truths concerning human rights, taught by our fathers, and to be ready to defend those truths at the sacrifice of every thing, even life itself—if this be fanaticism, then it may be that this defendant is fanatical—then it may be, and I trust it is true, that there are many other fanatics in this land. If any man should do me the high honor to charge such fanaticism upon me, I should do all I could to convince my fellow men that the charge was true.

But there is another class of fanatics in this country. A class fanatical against fanaticism. They believe fanaticism to be so dangerous that they become fanatical in opposition to it. They become wild and violent against men, because they believe them to be wild and violent.

There is no instance where the peculiarities of this class of fanatics appear so plainly as in connection with this very subject, slavery and the Fugitive Slave Act. The word abolitionist throws them into a fever. They seem to have as great a dread of it as evil spirits are supposed to have of the name of God or the sign of the cross. They seem to forget that abolitionist means nothing more nor less than one who desires to see abolished what every body knows to be wrong. Because some men are ultra in their opposition to slavery, these fanatics enlist in its defence. Because some refuse to obey the Fugitive Slave Act even though constitutional, on the ground that it is forbidden by a law higher than the constitution, they carry their fanaticism to such an insane length, as to deny this eternal truth, and impiously assert that a mere human instrument is the highest law for man,—the source and foundation of all human right. When men oppose the Fugitive Slave Law, they point to the constitution which they say requires slaves to be delivered up. And when it is answered that even admitting this, still Congress has no power over,—and that although it had, it could not so legislate as to deprive men of liberty without the trial by jury, without the habeas corpus and without due process of law,—these men overlook all that is in the constitution, in favor of liberty, and cast themselves, the constitution, and the interests and liberties of the Country, beneath the bloody wheels of this institution with a devotion as blind and fanatical, and I might say almost as incomprehensible, as that with which the Hindoo casts himself beneath the crushing wheels of Juggernaut.

But, gentlemen, I allude to this subject only to ask you to disregard it. And, whatever may be the fanaticism of the defendant or his counsel, or on the other hand of the prosecution,—that you will look at neither the one nor the other, but only at whatever of truth you may have heard from either. And that without reference to his political opinions you will decide the question whether he be guilty of a crime, with that singleness of purpose and pure impartiality with which you would each wish your own case to be judged by your fellow-men.

But, gentlemen, you will be told that these prosecutions, without reference to the mere personal interest of the defendant, are of the utmost importance, as settling whether or not we are to be governed by law. You may be appealed to by your regard and veneration for law to convict the defendant. We agree with the prosecution that these cases are of the utmost importance independent of their consequences to the defendant. We regard them as a struggle between the slave power and the people. And while the prosecution believes them to be important as settling whether law is to be executed, we believe them to be so, as settling whether LIBERTY IS TO BE EXECUTED.

I stand not here to argue against the general duty and importance of obedience to law. Neither have I the slightest fear that the people of this, or of any country, will ever break away from obedience to laws that deserve obedience. On the contrary the mass of men have ever been more inclined to abide by unjust laws, than to disobey just ones. And so far have they carried this, that they have even endured and are still enduring grievous wrong and injustice, which by a manly and independent resistance they might have arrested, because they were inflicted in the name of law. In that lies the great danger to liberty.

Governments, taking advantage of the attachment of the people to laws, practice cruelty and oppression under its forms, while its substance and spirit are disregarded. And when we remember that it was law that cast Daniel into the lion's den, and the three into the fiery furnace; that it was law that made Socrates drink hemlock and nailed Christ to the cross, and would have executed Washington and the patriots of the Revolution as traitors, if the governments that made the law had had power to enforce it: when we remember that since governments have existed, prisons have resounded with the sighs and groans, and scaffolds have dripped with the blood of innocence, and human tears have flowed like water for suffering and wrong, all done in the name and by the authority of law—it seems to me that our minds should be set free from a slavish devotion to human law, and that we should learn to estimate it only at its true value. It may be the cooling fountain from which we drink life and health, or it may be the poison stream from which we drink destruction and death. It may be the dwelling that protects us from the storm, or which if its foundations be unsound may topple down upon our heads and bury us beneath the ruins. It may be the bulwark which guards us from danger, or the chain which binds us as slaves. In short, Gentlemen, law is a means and not an end,—a means for the protection of human rights, and they who would sacrifice those rights for the preservation of law, are guilty of the folly of sacrificing the end to the means.

And he who would have a right estimate of human laws, and desires to make them what they ought to be, should ever remember, what we are told by every standard writer, and what no sane believer in the existence of a God needs to be told by any one, that the laws of God are paramount to all human laws, and that the latter are of no validity if contrary to the former. The law of man should ever have a firm hold on the divine, as the vessel on the angry sea lets down its anchor and fastens itself to the steadfast globe. And when the human Legislator cuts loose from that eternal anchor-ground of natural justice and right, in spite of all that may be said of peace and union and the Constitution, the ship of state will go tossing and rolling, with its sails torn and its rudder lost, on the wild waves of human passion, as the vessel that has parted her cable and left her anchor is driven helplessly on the wild waves of the sea? Yes, Gentlemen, God is above men." And they might as well deny that the heaven is above the earth, as to assert that a human law can release us from our obligation to the divine. And I know of nothing in history to which to compare the delusion and folly of those men who assert this, except to that of those, who having fashioned a brazen idol with their own hands, fell down and worshipped it and called it Almighty God?

I make these remarks, gentleman, in order to place before your minds, what I believe to be a true estimate of law, and to counteract as far as I may be able the powerful appeals which will be made by the prosecution, which unless we stop to reason and reflect might almost convince us that it is necessary to convict the defendant without law and against law, in order to illustrate the necessity of obedience to law.

The remarks we have made concerning the superiority of Divine over human law, have not been made because we deem that doctrine necessary to the acquittal of the defendant. We have made them because we believe them to be true; because we believe them to be appropriate on this occasion, and because we believe, if there ever was a law that should be held void by all courts and juries, as contrary to the first principles of natural right and justice, it is the Fugitive Slave Law. Yet, gentlemen, we wish you distinctly to understand that we deem this not at all necessary to our defence. For if that law were as lovely and just, as it is odious and wicked—if it were as much in harmony with the constitution as it is in violation of it—if it were a law which all good men would as much desire to see executed as they must now detest and abhor its execution—still you could not on your oaths, with the proof before you, convict the defendant. And although you may differ from us, although you may feel bound by this act: we ask you not therefore to conclude rashly that you must convict, but to examine those facts necessary to constitute a violation of it with the same care, the same strictness and favor to the accused that the law vouchsafes to the robber and assassin. And if you only do this, then whatever may be your individual opinions on the law, we know you must give a verdict of acquittal.

But, gentleman, you may be told that the perpetuity of our government depends upon the execution of this law. My learned friend may urge upon you, as he did upon a jury in a similar trial not long since, that the great distinction between our government, and those of the old world, is that ours is a government of law, and theirs are governments of force. And that if the people so conduct here as to make it necessary to use force in the execution of the laws, that then all distinctions will be abolished and we shall have returned to the condition of the nations across the sea.

Let us examine somewhat into this distinction. And if the word law be used in the sense in which I believe my learned friend uses it—if that be law which the government declares to be law, then I am unable to see that such a distinction exists. For all the tyranny practiced on the masses of the old world, which grinds them in the dust, is practiced in the execution of laws made by their governments. I see not, therefore, why others as well as ours are not governments of law—why the judges and executioners of Emmet—the slaughterers of the Italian Patriots, and the oppressors of mankind everywhere, have not as good claim to be regarded as the friends of law, as the Judges, Commissioners, officers and others in this country who are executing the Fugitive Slave Law. They are all engaged in obedience to the enactments of their governments.

But, Gentlemen, there is in my judgment a distinction between our government and those of the old world, much deeper and broader, and more important than the one for which the Gentleman contends. It is that ours rests upon a foundation, broad as humanity, perpetual as the globe. That foundation is the inalienable, God-given right of the individual man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and the recognition of the truth that all government and all laws are established to protect those rights; that when they fail in this, they should be altered or abolished, and new ones instituted in their stead. When shall we learn to appreciate in all their immortal splendor, the sublime truths of the Declaration of Independence? When shall we learn to see even in the child of the outcast, whose mother has perished at its birth, and left it naked on the cold bosom of the earth, with father unknown, and without a relative who would not look upon it with shame and confusion of face—when shall we learn to see in this helpless child, with scarce the power to make its wailing heard by the passer by, that before which the majesty of all human government must bow—when shall we learn to see a holy light shining around it, and to hear a voice, as it were, from the common Father of us all, saying this is my child, and I have given to it rights that are beyond the reach of all the unhallowed power of man?

When we learn this, then shall we learn the true distinction between our government and those of the Old World. Then shall we learn that those governments only which enact justice and righteousness can secure peaceful obedience to the laws, and that those which violate the rights of man, must enforce their decrees by the bayonet and the cannon. And in short we shall then learn that it is the character of the laws enacted by any government, that determines whether it is to be a government of law, or a government of force. And when the people rise up almost universally against a law and refuse to obey it, the government may well conclude that the fault is in the law itself, and should see to it first that there is no beam in in its own eye, before it makes very great efforts to draw the mote from the eyes of the people.

It is in vain to say that ours is a government of the people. It is so in theory I know. But by the union of the slaveholders, and by the corruption of the traffickers in the political shambles who have ever betrayed the North, and who throw in human rights as small change in their bargainings, many laws have been passed entirely repugnant to the wishes of the people. And when such acts outrage every principle of justice, and endanger the liberties and rights of all, the people never will obey them. Gentlemen! you yourselves would not obey this Fugitive Act.—You might not oppose its execution, but I believe there is not a man of you who would pursue the panting fugitive if the Marshal should call on you for that purpose, and yet this law requires you to do it. If you would, you would do that which a slaveholder would scorn to do, and which he would scorn you for doing.

Senator Wade, of Ohio, was reproved one day by a northern dough-face because he would not obey this law. Wade asked him if he would help catch slaves if the Marshall should call upon him. He said he would. Wade then turned to one of the Sothern Senators and asked the same question and the slave holder proudly replied, that he would see them damned first!

We hear a great deal from certain quarters about the sanctity of law, but it so happens that we seldom hear it except about laws in support of slavery. Laws for the protection of freemen are violated systematically and openly by certain States in the Union, yet the government never manifests the slightest concern in their behalf. It is only when slavery is in danger that it discovers such sanctity in law. Now the truth is that more is said than felt about this matter of the importance of more law. The prosecutors here violate law every day. We all do. There is not a man on the jury, or in this room, who does not deliberately violate it. We have a law prohibiting the circulation of bank bills below a certain denomination, yet nobody pays the least attention to it. And if a law may be safely disregarded by the whole people, merely because it is foolish and inconvenient, without involving any principle, is it to produce such disastrous results to disregard a law confessedly infamous and at war with justice and humanity?

No, Gentlemen, the people of this Country never will obey this law. And on the spirit which prompts to this disobedience, I hang all my hopes for the perpetuation of our liberties. They disobey it, because they love true law and order and justice and right. And I have no more fear that because they disobey it, they will rush into anarchy and confusion, than I should have that the majestic stream that had swept away the barrier that man had placed in its track, would therefore rise above its banks, and attempt to pass the eternal limits set by its creator.

Yes, Gentlemen, when we learn to understand the true theory of our Government, then shall we know that the whole system of slavery is at war with that theory. That it is a system that carries us back not only to the Government of force of the old world, but far back to the barbarous ages, when might was right, and one class of the people could be subjected by brute force to the absolute control of another.

Then shall we learn that it is the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, that renders us most like the governments of force in Europe. For it is this only that requires force in its execution.—It was this that required the assistance of regular troops and volunteer scoundrels, with bayonets and cannon, to march with Burns along the streets of Boston, beneath the spot where Bunker's shaft points to heaven to tell where men had died for freedom!

Our country is passing through a fiery ordeal. Men may weakly shut their eyes to this truth, but it cannot be disguised. They may cry peace! peace! but that will not still the raging waves of the ocean. They cannot smother the volcano, nor the earthquake. Equally vain is the attempt to reconcile antagonisms—to blend together in perpetual harmony and peace what God has divided by the eternal boundaries of good and evil. Our country is in the midst of a terrific struggle between the opposing elements of Liberty and Slavery. And whatever may have been our former opinions, the time is soon coming when every man must determine on which side he will be found. It is the hope of every friend of freedom in the world that we may come out safe and purified at last. But if this is not to be—if the re-acting waves of tyranny are to swallow us up, and we, too, are to have a government of force that executes its laws with bristling bayonets and bellowing cannon, and troops red with the blood of the people [illegible] to the institution of Slavery we [illegible]owe it—it will be in the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law that the first precedents will be established.

I hope, therefore, that no appeals made to you will influence you to think that the interests of the country, or the cause of law and order requires the conviction of this defendant. But that on the contrary you will believe with us that the honor of our country and the interests of liberty, humanity and law unite with the evidence to require a verdict of acquittal.

Gentlemen, the fate of the defendant is with you. But whatever may be your finding as to him, I have faith to believe that the cause of liberty will receive no detriment by it. You may commit him to the dungeon, but—

> Eternal spirit of the chainless mind,
> Brightest in dungeons Liberty! thou art,
> For there thy habitation is the heart,
> The heart which love of thee alone can bind,
> And when thy sons to fetters are consigned,
> To fetters and the damp vault's dayless gloom,
> Their country conquers with their martyrdom,
> And freedom's fame finds wings on every wind.

You may commit this defendant to prison, but think you there is a man within the jurisdiction of this Court, that for this, would sooner obey the Fugitive Act? Never! never! On the contrary, I know not but such sacrifices are necessary to fill up the cup of its iniquities, and make the people detest and abhor it with that perfect hatred, that shall yet lead them to sweep it before them with the besom of destruction.

But, gentlemen, I hope that these things will never need to be. I still hope for safety from the juries of the country. A firm and independent jury, saved the cause of the people in the trial of the Bishops in England. The libel cases in England were a struggle between the government and the people, as these slave law trials are here. Macauley gives a most interesting account of the trial of the Bishops for libel. An intense excitement pervaded the whole people, and when the verdict of acquittal was announced the whole nation shouted for joy. When the jury first went out, one man professed to have some doubts. Another of the jurors, a country gentleman, I believe, replied, "Look at me! I am the largest man on the panel. But I will stay here till I am no bigger than a tobacco-pipe, before I will find the Bishops guilty." I hope my friend (Treat) who enjoys that pre-eminence in this jury will make a similar virtuous resolution. And if he does we shall at all events be certain that the defendant will suffer nothing for sometime to come.

I say, Gentlemen, that I still have hope from the juries of the country. And in this case, although the government may have departed from its duty, and trampled on the constitution to enact laws dangerous to the rights of the people, although courts are found who uphold those laws, and although prosecutors strain every nerve and put forth all their power, to bring down vengeance on the head of this defendant, I still have faith that the jury will stand as an impassable barrier between the government and its selected victim, that you will throw around him a twelve-fold shield, upon which the storms of tyranny will fall in vain. I still have faith that your verdict, like that of the acquittal of the Bishops will add another instance illustrating the value of the jury trial, that it will show that the jury is ever found on the side of JUSTICE, LIBERTY, AND THE PEOPLE.

Abstract of the Report of the Secretary of State.

GENERAL FUND.—This fund is derived from arrearages to the territory, taxes, pedlars' licenses, and the Judiciary Fund. The receipts for the last year were $191,299 46, and the payments $222,154 12.

JUDICIARY FUND.—The sum of $7,315 58 has been paid over to the Treasury in all since 1849, leaving $2,668 50 not accounted for. The Secretary recommends action in order to secure the payment of this sum by the Clerks, and regulate the matter in future.

FUND FOR THE BLIND.—A balance of $465 84, which belonged to this fund, has been carried over to the General Fund, as appropriations for the Blind are now made from that fund.

SCHOOL FUND.—The sales of school land for the past year, have amounted to $37,820 67. The whole receipts into the fund have been $119,678 19, and the disbursements $84,996 06, leaving a balance of $34,682 13. Of the disbursements, however, $73,663 73 were in the shape of loans of the fund; and of the amount given as receipts, $34,094 92 came over from the previous year.

The Secretary gives the following as the present condition of the fund:

Due on certificates of sale	$1,374,285 69
Error in books for '52 and '53	40,977 41
Amount of Loans from Fund	229,314 21
In Treasury	34,682 03
	$1,670,259 77

All of which, except the sum on hand, is drawing interest at 7 per cent, and constitutes the School Fund Income. The receipts of income for the past year with the balance from last, were $123,700 13, and the disbursements $97,067 99. The Secretary thinks the loans and sales during the winter will bring the amount to be apportioned in March, up to $145,000.

The University Fund is represented as amounting to $160,089 49. The income for the year is estimated at $13,000.

The Improvement Fund seems to remain about the same as last year, a balance of 38 cents being in the Treasury after disbursing $128.

The following is a recapitulation of the receipts and disbursements of all the Funds:

	Receipts.	Payments.
General Fund	$191,299 46	$222,154 12
School Fund	85,583 27	84,990 06
School Fund Income	106,235 03	97,158 88
University Fund	9,945 59	21,595 93
University Income	8,775 07	10,040 41
Improvement Fund	......	129 00
	$401,838 42	$437,007 43

To those footings must be added the balances for and against the several funds on the 1st of January, 1854, as follows:

General Fund		$ 8,110 79
School Fund	$34,094 92
School Income	17,465 10
University Fund	10,867 22
University Income	2,994 56
Improvement Fund	129 38
And we have	$467,386 60	$445,117 13

Showing a nominal balance on the better side of $22,267 47. (In another place, the Secretary estimates the State indebtedness for the State Prison at about $95,000; and the authorized State debt in bonds issued is $100,000.)

The list of receipts into and disbursements from the General and School Funds, and accounts audited under various laws, is full and interesting. The State tax from each county is given in the first quarter of the General Fund, Milwaukee county paying the highest sum ($15,824 53) and Marathon county the least ($400.). Several counties, however, were not returned till late in the year.

The mileage and per diem of the Legislature amounted to $36,594 40—the sums paid for printing and newspapers to $33,791 51—for expenses of Impeachment Trial $10,590 00—for postage $7,648 48—for south wing of State Prison $16,449 29.

The amount paid for appraising school lands was about $5,000.

The total revenue of the State for 1855, (containing, however, several doubtful items,) is estimated at $258,820.

☞The State Equalization Board performed its duties under considerable embarrassment, nearly half of the counties having failed to make their returns, and the Secretary alludes to the necessity of fair returns of valuation. The following tables are condensed from the one giving the full labor of the Board:

Number of acres of land	8,013,496
Equalized valuation per acre	$6 01
Valuation of lands, (equalized)	51,803,532
Valuation of lots, "	6,394,182
Valuation of pers. prop. "	6,038,000
Aggregate valuation, "	64,465,714
State Tax	225,000

The aggregate assessed valuation was $12,613,710. (The guess of the State Board is probably somewhere near $30,000,000 of the truth.)

The following is the total valuation, as equalized, in the counties, as named:

Counties	Valuation.	Counties.	Valuation.
Adams,	$199,000	Manitowoc,	1,232,560
Bad Ax,	297,710	Marathon,	137,801

Total,			$64,265,715

A long account is given of the various bids for the State Printing. Thirteen bids were received, and the Secretary decided that of James Densmore to be the lowest; but Beriah Brown appealed to the Governor, State Treasurer and Attorney General, who awarded the latter the contract.

Under the head of "Elections," a statement is given of the general elections held during the year, and legislation is recommended in order to provide greater regularity in the returns. The average majority against a change from Annual to Biennial Sessions was almost 5,000, the total vote being only about 18,000, or less than one-third the vote of the State.

The amount expended for newspapers at the last session is stated at [illegible] 22, and the consequent postage at $4,124 78—a total of $10,196 00.

The Secretary states that the provisions of the law of 1850, requiring foreign Insurance Companies to file certain sworn statements in his office, are almost totally disregarded.

He recommends that the act for the Registration of Marriages either be repealed, or so amended that the records shall be kept in the county offices.

The progress of expenses of this State is shown by a table of which we give the footings:

1849	$94,071 31
1850	71,671 38
1851	112,620 80
1852	123,474 06
1853	153,910 58
1854	222,134 12

The estimated expenses for 1855, under general heads, are as follows:

Salaries*	$32,650 00
Permanent appropriations	8,700 00
Legislative expenses	19,025 00
Postage*	1,000 00
Incidental Printing†	5,690 00
Stationery for next Legislature†	2,000 00
Miscellaneous	162,137 79
Sundry expenses of 1854	23,045 80

(The items marked * are manifestly too small; that of postage clearly so, and as to the printing, there being no other estimate for it, it must be too small by at least $20,000. These, with the one marked † make up $40,000, which does not appear to be included in the Secretary's Recapitulation, which amounts to $263,069 52, and if added, brings up the estimate to $281,069 52, or adding $20,000 to the expense estimated for printing, to $301,067 52. How much the business of the Insane Asylum may add to this, remains to be seen. The Secretary has included in his figures, $20,000 for this purpose, but it is either too much or too little, depending upon the action of the Legislature. We notice, also, that there is no estimate for the expenses of Sergeant-at-Arms and assistants. This item includes $95,138 72, stated as the indebtedness for prisoners, and the south wing of the State Prison.)

Several of the counties are still in arrears to the State, the aggregate indebtedness being $15,073 16.

A general deduction from the financial statements of the Report is that of the estimated expenses of the State Government for 1854, the sum of $118,184 52, or nearly one half, comes to this Legislature as a legacy from the past year, leaving the whole of the expenses, ordinary and extraordinary, salaries, legislature, printing, postage, the Asylums and support of the State Prison, interest on State Loan, Lunatic Asylum, and all contingent expenses to be provided for.

THE RESCUE TRIAL.—BOOTH CONVICTED.—The trial of S. M. Booth, indicted for aiding in the escape of GLOVER, was concluded on the 14th inst. and a verdict rendered of GUILTY! This was not unexpected,—heaven and earth being moved for six months on the part of his prosecutors, to accomplish it. We cannot censure the court, marshals or jury because they do the work of their masters and do it well,—receiving their reward. It is public opinion we censure, because without an ignorant, debauched and nigger loving, Anglo-saxon-hating state of public opinion no such thing as slave-catching could be legalized. Let the law rip, and its operations will aid in ripping up this heinous, runaway nigger institution. The conviction of a few more citizens of Wisconsin would break down the Law and fasten everlasting infamy upon all who have ever made a business of enforcing it.—[Grant Co. Herald.

CITY MATTERS.

Police Court—Jan. 25.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH ESQ. POLICE JUSTICE.

CHARGE OF STEALING.—A warrant was issued against John Pierson, alias, charging him with stealing one pair of sheets and one sheet of the value of $2,50 of the property of Peter Berngasser. The property is alleged to have been stolen on the 14th January.

A man named George Qocha was arrested and brought into court by officer Meyers, on a warrant charging him with threatening to kill Arba W. Wood. The defendant gave bail in the sum of $250 to appear on the 27th and to keep the peace in the mean time.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY AT AUCTION.—There will be offered for sale at the chequered Auction Rooms this evening and to-morrow evening a large stock of Watches and Jewelry direct from New York City. The stock consists of Watches of different value, from $50 to $200; a large assortment of Chains, Fob and Vest, Ladies Jewelry of all kinds and of the choicest patterns. They will be sold to the highest bidder without reserve. The stock is valued at $10,000, and is sold on assignment from an Importing House in New York.

BOILER MAKING AND BLACKSMITHING.—Messrs. Cummings and Goodrich, corner of Main and Chicago Streets Boiler Makers and Blacksmiths, are now prepared, in their new brick building, to furnish boilers or blacksmith work for vessels, &c., on the shortest notice. Their last year's work amounted to upwards of $20,000, and gave entire satisfaction. In their new establishment, with increased facilities, they advertise to make boilers of any size, on the shortest notice, and to do all kinds of blacksmithing; warranting all work turned out by them.

ROBBERY IN A BOARDING HOUSE.—A man named Richard Moloy was arrested last night by officer Parsons and being charged with stealing a hundred dollars in gold from an old man named Michael McGowan on Wednesday night.—The old man had come in, to pay some money upon his land and staid in a house in the Second Ward and during the night was robbed of his money, suspicion fell upon the arrested man from his having slept in the same bed with McGowan. No money was found upon him.—He was taken to jail.

ANOTHER SNOW STORM.—The snow fell during most of yesterday, adding several inches to our already large stock. As night closed in, it came down thicker and faster, the wind piped up from the northeast, and there was a good show for a second edition of Sunday's storm.

The Lunatic Asylum Contract.

This remarkable contract of the "Balance" has at length seen the light, in the shape of a Report to the Assembly. It came as gracefully as the drawing of a tooth. We have examined it a little, and think from appearances there can be no doubt that Barstow intends to provide for the Balance during their natural lives, and their children after them, even unto the fifth and sixth generation. The following are the items of cost as we take them from the contract, and we have taken the trouble to compare them with the usual prices of work and material in Madison. It was not without reason truly that our contractors never got a sight of the specifications, so as to make a bid, which we have been informed was the case. By comparing the two columns, and estimate, exceedingly flattering, can be formed of the rare financial talent of our Executive.

Extra items not included in schedule, that may be needed on main building,	$1,200
Simi'ar work on each wing,	1,200

* This item is entirely vague. Rubble work costs from $2,50 to $3,00 in Madison. Rough masonry costs $1,50, and everything found.

†Cut stone masonry. If this item means such cut stone masonry as the Capitol House, that cost $3 00 per perch. If it means fine cut or tooled work, such as caps and sills, the highest price ever paid in Madison is 50 cents per foot, or $8 per perch. Mechanics will contract any day at the prices we have named, and for any amount or class of work, or material.

By the plan, there are to be three transverse, and three longitudinal wings, in addition to the main building. Completed under this contract, the building will cost from $250,000 to $300,000. In fact we see no limit but the Contractor's conscience. It is a regular Barstow transaction, having all the appearance of fraud.

There were but two bids in,—the one accepted from Andrew Proudfit, the other from C. H. Lamar and Arthur Bosley. The matter will have a searching investigation.—Madison Patriot, (dem)

Holloway's Pills a certain cure for Asthma.—These Pills have effected several wonderful cures of these complaints. The following is one out of five hundred: Jas. Earnshaw, of Philadelphia, suffered with asthma for fifteen months, the continual cough completely shook his system, caused him to spit blood, and at times it most choked him. Everything he ate he vomited and he became the mere ghost of his former self. Holloway's Pills in this instance, were as usual efficacious, (aided as they were by the Ointment, which he well rubbed into his chest,) and in seven weeks by these remedies, he was cured; he has since regained his wonted strength, and warmly recommends Holloway's medicines to his fellow citizens.

J. CROUCH—UNDERTAKER.

An office of the FOREST HOME CEMETERY will hereafter be kept in the office of J. Crouch, undertaker, Spring Street, opposite the American House, where all applications may be made and receipts given for lots single graves, or interments. Persons wishing to select lots or burying places, will be accompanied to the Cemetery free of charge, by Mr. Crouch, who has plats and is thoroughly acquainted with all parts of the grounds.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Madison, Jan. 24.

A Republican Caucus is called for this evening in the Senate Chamber, and it is quite probable that a candidate for U. S. Senator may be agreed upon.

In Senate this morning, there was not much of interest, beyond the passage of the bills, a list of which I have sent this afternoon. Mr. Bowen introduced a resolution against the payment of extra clerk-hire from the Treasury. Mr. Worthington, from the Committee on Agriculture &c., reported in favor of a memorial to Congress against the renewing of the Reaper patents of McCormick, Moore & Haskell, and Hussey.

In Assembly a communication was received from the publishers of the Supreme Court Reports, asking to be heard before Committee, inasmuch as the Governor had sent in to them his side of the story. Leave was granted, and the matter was referred to the Committee on claims.

The State Treasurer sent in a statement of the amount of fines, penalties, &c., paid in by the agents appointed by the Governor. The amount is $1,519,73, returned by 9 of the agents. On motion of Mr. Hull, the statement was referred to Committee, with instructions to enquire whether any of the agents have failed to make returns, and whether any proceedings are necessary.—(These agents were paid 30 per cent, under the law.)

Petitions were presented:

By Mr. Davis for a ferry charter across the Wisconsin river.

By Mr. Taylor, concerning a Sch. of District in Hazel Green.

By Mr. Topliff, for a State Road.

By Mr. H. Grant, for a new town in Waushara Co.

Bills were introduced as follows:

By Mr. Stevens, charter of La Crosse & Black River Falls R. R. Co.—referred to Committee on corporations.

By Mr. Van Nostrand, relative to certain School lands—referred to a select committee.

Mr. Randall, from the Judiciary Committee, reported in favor of sending copies of documents to the N. Y. Law Institute. Also favorably on the bill changing the time of holding courts in Portage and Marathon counties. The bill passed, the rules being suspended. Reports were made by Mr. Virgin, from committee on Education &c., and by Mr. DeWolf from committee on Engrossed Bills.

Under the head of "bills on their 3d reading," a large number of bills passed, the titles or subjects of which I have already sent. The bill abolishing the Emigrant Agency, coming up, Mr. Vilas asked that somebody should state the facts calling for the proposed bill. Mr. Martin stated that portion of the Governor's Message relating to the subject was referred to the Committee on State Affairs, who thought the Agency a useless expense, and have reported the bill. Mr. Hull said that he had been, last winter, of the opinion that the Agency should be continued, but had changed his sentiments upon the subject. The thing was so nearly dead that nobody thought it worth while to speak at any length about it, and the Ayes and Noes showed 75 in favor of passing the bill, to 5 against the Noes being Messrs Fisher, Juneau, Ruan, Stevens and Vliet.

You will have noticed among the bills passed one suspending the sale of school lands, except to actual settlers. It is intended to choke off the speculators, until there is an opportunity to pass a proper bill regulating the sales in future.

The bill declaring the Wauwandee river a public highway being on its passage, Mr. Bennett proposed to amend it by inserting a provision guarding the private rights of other parties, who might be interested, beyond the mill owners who ask for the bill. Mr. Stevens seemed quite indignant at this, and bore down upon Mr. Bennett quite sharply for interfering in a private matter of his constituents. The latter stood it very composedly, giving some reasons for his course. He might have gone further, and claimed the right of enquiring into the propriety of any bill for which he is asked to vote. One of the greatest curses to our State has been this custom of taking the propriety of bills for granted, thus making each member a small legislature in himself. It was by just such careless legislation that the Insane Asylum Bill passed last winter, putting the state in for $200,000 and over, unless some means can be found of breaking the contract.

After going through the file of bills in Committee of the Whole the following bills were ordered engrossed;

Two authorizing ferries.
Charter of Beloit Gas Co.
Extending the time of collecting taxes in Madison.

The bill chartering the Janesville Collegiate Institute was laid on the table, to await the action of the Judiciary Committee, who are preparing a general law.

The appropriation of $242,62 to Lt. Gov. Lewis, was for his services as Acting Governor, while Gov. Barstow was off at Washington, "giving Noonan a turn."

In answer to a resolution of enquiry, the Attorney General sent in copies of a correspondence between Commissioner Starks and himself relative to the construction of a part of the State Prison contract. The Commissioner innocently asks whether, as the contractor claims, he shall allow the latter 3 cents per pound for placing the iron work where it belongs in the prison, (that is, I suppose, if a door weighs 200lbs, $6,00 is to be paid for hanging it.) The Attorney General answers that he thinks it all right. Of course he does, and the great probability is that his construction is right.

The select committee on the Fox and Wisconsin River Improvement was announced—Messrs Topliff, Ebbetts, Hull, Judson and Gary.

The Lunatic Commissioners sent in a claim for $25,00, for furnishing the Legislature with a copy of the contract yesterday. Cool!

Sundry amendments were made to the three bills, chartering the Baptist Educational institutions in this State.

A Message from the Governor, communicated the results of the mission of Messrs. H. T. Sanders and A. Kruer to the eastward, to buy books for the State Library, the former for Law Books, and the latter for Miscellaneous works. Mr. Sanders bought books to the amount of $1501,00, for which service he was paid $200, and Mr. Kruer, the State Librarian, bought $913,00 dollars worth, for which service he was paid $150,00. There seems to be a balance of $118 75 still remaining of the appropriation.

We have learned the facts of the imprisonment of the persons convicted of having souls, in the Federal Court. I am not able to find any person after diligent search, who thinks any the less of them for being confined among felons in the county jail; or any more of the iniquitous Law or its administrators. The resolution that Wisconsin shall be freed from all connection with slavery is stronger every day.

LEGISLATIVE.—Both branches of the Legislature accomplished a good forenoon's work yesterday, and adjourned over after having cleared the clerk's desks of business. We have never known a Legislature finish up its work as prompt as the present. The table is cleared every day.—Madison Journal.

A FRENCH RAILROAD.—Dick Tinto, in the New York Times, furnishes the following item:

"On the Railroad between Paris and Lyons they travel a mile a minute, on the average.—There is a resident guard at every mile, occupying a stone two story house, built by the railroad upon its own territory. There are four hundred miles of rail, with 400 responsible inmates, for the most part raising families and cultivating ornamental patches. The most serious accident that ever occurs is that an axletree gets hot."

SUNDAY DRINKING PLACES.—The proprietors of nearly all the large hotels have given orders to have their bars closed on Sunday. The Astor, St. Nicholas, Irving, and in fact all the prominent hotels have agreed to do so, thus aiding Mayor Wood in his reform.—[N. Y. Mirror.

SPEECH OF BYRON PAINE,

In Defence of S. M. Booth. Indicted for Aiding in the Escape of a Fugitive Slave, Joshua Glover.

Delivered before the U.S. Court, Jan. 12, 1855.

[CONCLUDED.]

On the argument of the motion in arrest in the Rycraft case, my friend, Mr. Ryan, referred to the common Law offence of rescue, in which it is sufficient to prove the warrant, the arrest and the rescue. And he claimed, that, reasoning by analogy, that would be sufficient under that Act. I cannot so regard it. At common law and under the English Statutes, it was felony to aid in the escape of a prisoner "charged with felony." 1st Russell on Crimes, 434. Roscoe's Crim. Ev. 878-9. Proof therefore, that the party aided, was in custody "charged with felony" brought the defendant within the very terms of the law. The question of guilt was immaterial. But suppose the words of the law had punished the rescue of a prisoner guilty of felony? There the analogy would exist. And no lawyer could for a moment pretend that under such a law, it would not be necessary to allege and prove the guilt of the party rescued. And even at common law and under the English Statutes, the rescuer, though he might be indicted, yet could not be tried, until the party rescued was attainted. Roscoe's Crim. Ev. 879. Showing that the punishment of the rescuer as a felon, was after all held to be dependent on the guilt of the principal. It is clear therefore to my mind, that there is no analogy to be found in the provisions of the common law, from which any reason can be drawn sustaining these counts. But that in fact they teach a contrary conclusion. For they teach that the defendant must, by the indictment, be brought within the terms of the law, whatever those terms may be. And it would be a very strange and unwarranted inference, that because under a law punishing the rescue of a person charged with crime, it would be sufficient to prove the rescue of such a person, that therefore under an act punishing the rescue of a person owing service or labor, it would be sufficient to prove merely the rescue of a person claimed as such.

There is abundance of materials from which to draw illustrations of this position. Under Statutes punishing embezzlement by any servant or person acting in the capacity of a servant, it is necessary to allege and prove that the defendant was a servant, and acted in that capacity. Arch. Crim. Pleading, 131 2, 2d Russell on Crimes, 164 167-172. In some cases though the act was clearly proved, the prisoners escaped because it appeared that they were not servants. It would not do to say they had done wrong;—that if people were allowed to embezzle, nobody would be safe. That was not the question. But the question was whether they were brought within the terms of the Act under which they were indicted. So in the 2d U. S Digest, page 521, sec 64, there is the following reference.

An indictment against a slave for the murder of his master, must allege that the master was a free person, to bring the case within the Statute of Alabama of 1814, which provides that, 'any slave found guilty of the manslaughter of any free person shall on conviction suffer death."—State vs. Moses. Minor, 393

So on page 525, Sec, 183, there is this reference:

"An indictment on the statute the owner or tenant of land liable for obstructing a highway must aver that the defendant was owner or tenant. Gregory vs, Commonwealth. 2d Dana 417.

And it is an invariable rule, against which not an authority can be found, that whenever a statute punishes a person of a particular class for doing any act, indictments under that statute must aver that the defendant belonged to that class. And whenever a statute punishes any person who does certain acts to or with another of a particular class, the indictment must allege that the defendant did the acts to, or with a person of that particular class.

The defendant would have had the right to show by evidence that Glover was free, and thus that he did not commit the offence described in the statute. A person indicted for receiving stolen property, may on the trial controvert the guilt of the principal felon, and this even after the principal had been convicted. Because it being res inter alias acta, the receiver is not bound by it. Roscoe's Crim Ev 877. Therefore, reasoning by analogy, the defendant here would have been entitled to prove that Glover was free, even after the examination and a decision against him.—But there being no allegation to the contrary, the presumption is that he was free, and therefore it is to be viewed in the same light, as if there were a positive allegation in the indictment to that effect.

But there is another view of this matter, derived from the act itself, which it seems to me settles this question beyond the possibility of a doubt, if there were such possibility before. Suppose that Garland had arrested Glover without process, as he might under the Act? Suppose the defendant had aided Glover to escape from his custody. Would this Court—could this Court hold for a moment, that to sustain an indictment for that act, it would be sufficient to allege that Garland seized Glover, without process, as his slave, and that the defendant aided in the escape. Such an idea would be monstrous. Glover might have been free, and Garland a trespasser, in which case it would have been entirely lawful to aid the escape. Such a construction could not be tolerated for an instant. And yet it would be just as correct as to sustain these counts. For as far as the offence against this act is concerned, it makes no difference whether the escape be from an officer with process, or from the claimant without. The Act punishes the aiding in the escape from the claimant, his agent, or attorney, or other person lawfully authorized to assist him. An escape from the officer can only be held an offence at all, by regarding the officer as the agent of the claimant, or the person assisting him. And does the agent take precedence of the principal? Can a court say that it would have been necessary to prove that Glover was a fugitive from labor, if the escape had been from Garland, and yet not necessary when it was from an officer acting as Garland's agent? By what possible reasoning could such a pretence be sustained? The indictment would in both cases be drawn on precisely the same words of the Act. Those words are not changed by changing the person from whom the escape is effected. Yet the construction asked for by the prosecution would do this: It would give such mighty magic to an officer with process, as to subvert and annihilate not only the oldest rules of criminal law, but also the plain words of an Act of Congress.

We admit that so far as the offence charged in the first counts is concerned, the question of Glover's servitude is immaterial. If the officer had process and was resisted, it was immaterial what the process was. That would have been an offence against the act of 1790, punishing resistance to an officer. But under the 7th section of the Fugitive Slave Act, there is no distinction between an escape from an officer with process, and one from the claimant without.

Mr. Ryan referred to the eighth section, which speaks of "such supposed fugitive." But that refers only to the fees of the Marshal, and applies expressly to the case of a discharge on the examination. Then it would be proper to speak of the person discharged as a "supposed fugitive." But no rational inference can be drawn from the fact that because the legislature, referring expressly to a case of discharge, speaks of "a supposed fugitive" in the 8th section, that therefore they meant a "supposed fugitive" only in the 7th section, where the language requires an actual fugitive. But in truth a contrary presumption is to be derived from it. For it shows that they well understood the distinction between a supposed fugitive, and an actual fugitive, and that when they spoke of the one they did not mean the other. And the case of the United States, vs. Wiltberger, to which I have before referred, is an authority directly in point, against this attempted construction. For in that case it was held that, where a statute in one section punishes manslaughter on the high seas, and in other sections punishes murder in rivers, basins, &c., inasmuch as the Legislature had used words descriptive of the place, where the offence could be committed, in the section creating it, they must be presumed to have intended that place only. And that the court could not transfer to that section descriptive words used in other sections not referred to, so as to make the offence of manslaughter punishable, when committed in a place other than that described in the section creating the offence.

There are no authorities in favor of the construction asked for here, except some intimations of Judge Nelson in the Enoch Reed Case. The Court has mentioned some intimations in the Morris Case decided by Judge Curtis. But I read that case very carefully a day or two since, and I find no intimations sustaining this construction in the slightest. He says that in the first four counts, there was an allegation that Shadrach owed service. There may be from this an inference that there were some counts in which this allegation was not made. But there is no intimation that such counts would be sufficient. And there is nothing that appears in the case to show that the other counts, were framed under the Fugitive Act, or that they were not like the others in this indictment, for resisting an officer.

And why did the prosecutors make the allegation in the first four counts, if they did not believe it to be necessary?

It rests entirely, upon the intimations of Judge Nelson. Those intimations were given in passing on the competence of certain proof before the Grand Jury. The question as to the sufficiency of the Counts had not been raised or argued. And it would be unjust, even to Judge Nelson to hold, that, because, in disposing of a preliminary question, he gave some intimations sustaining such counts, he would therefore deliberately, after examination, assent to such a violation of the plainest rule of law. His remarks on the subject are few. They are loose and general,—more so than any reasoning I ever saw upon a criminal statute. In fact he makes no effort to show that the words of the Act include the offence charged, but says generally, that if the officer issuing the warrant had jurisdiction, then the Marshal must be protected. That no body has a right to rescue persons lawfully in the custody of the Marshal. We admit that the Marshal must be protected, and there is a statute to protect him. The Act of 1790 punishes any person who resists him in the execution of process. That is ample for his protection.

It seems to be assumed on the other side, that after the escape, it is forever impossible to prove the fact of owing service. That is not so. They can prove it still. They did prove it in the Morris case. If they wish to convict men under this Act, let them bring forward the proof and show that they have violated it.

But is this a question of protecting the Marshal, or of construing an Act of Congress? If the words of the Act do not include the offence, has the Court a right to include it so as to protect the Marshal? That is legislation. That is making law and not deciding it. Such a course is in direct violation of the decisions I have read.

I trust, therefore, that these intimations of Judge Nelson, are not to overthrow all the rules established since criminal law has been a science. For one or the other must fall. They are in direct conflict. We believe this matter to be almost too plain for argument. That it is not a question on which reason can pause, but that any mind capable of understanding language, and of applying a plain and simple rule of law, is forced inevitably, however unwilling it may be, to the conclusion that these Counts are entirely defective.

When laws are passed, harsh, odious and cruel and Courts tell us that they are bound to enforce those laws, whatever may be their individual opinions, that position we respect. But what can be said, when in violation of all the rules of law,—in violation of the words of those Acts themselves, Courts go beyond their provisions and punish Acts not included in them? It is an awful responsibility to assume, to punish a man guilty of no crime known to the law, in the midst of a people whose forbearance has been stretched to its utmost limit, by the provisions of the Act when construed as favorably as possible.

I have, now, gentlemen, finished my argument to the Court, asking it to instruct you that you cannot convict the defendant on the last two counts, for want of any allegation that Glover was a fugitive from labor. But even if the Court should refuse so to instruct you—even if it has been proved that the defendant broke the jail, and that Glover was a slave, still you cannot convict this defendant. It is not enough in trying an indictment to prove that the defendant has committed some offence. It must be proved that he committed the offence charged. Thus if a man be indicted for stealing the property of A, and on the trial it is proved that he stole the property, but that it belonged to B, he must go acquit.—For although it is just as wrong to steal the property of B as that of A, still that is not the offence charged. And every man at all familiar with the administration of the law, knows that many criminals have gone free on account of a slight variance between the allegations and the proof.

Let us apply the same rule here. The offence charged is not only that the defendant aided Glover to escape, but that he aided him to escape from the custody of Charles C. Cotton. If, therefore, the proof shows that he escaped from the custody of somebody else, the defendant must be acquitted. We contend that the proof shows just such a state of facts. Cotton brought Glover to this city and committed him to jail early in the morning. At about 2 o'clock he returned his warrant. That is the last we hear of him. The rescue was effected from the jail at about sundown. We say that this evidence shows that Glover was rescued from the custody of the State Jailor. And in support of this position I will read you the law of this State on that subject. The first section to which I ask your attention is the 83d Section of Chapter 10 of the Revised Statutes. It is as follows:

"The Sheriff shall have the charge and custody of the jails of his county, and of the prisoners of the same, and shall keep them himself, or by his deputy or jailor, for whose acts he and his sureties shall be responsible."

This gives the Sheriff of the county the custody of all prisoners in the jail and of the jail itself; and requires him to keep them himself, or by some person selected by him. You see therefore that no other person than the sheriff can have lawful custody of the jail or the prisoners in it.

The section under which Glover was committed, was one passed in accordance with a resolution of Congress, recommending the passage of laws by the states, allowing their jails and prisons to be used by the United States. It is as follows.

"All Sheriffs, jailors, prison keepers, and their and each and every of their deputies, within this State, to whom any person or persons shall be sent or committed, by virtue of legal process issued by or under the authority of the United States, shall be and they are hereby enjoined and required to receive such persons into custody, and to keep them safely, until they be discharged by due course of the laws of the United States; and all such Sheriffs, jailors, prison keepers and their deputies, offending in the premises, shall be liable to the same pains and penalties, and the parties aggrieved shall be entitled to the same remedies against them, or any of them, as if such prisoners had been committed to their custody by virtue of legal process issued under the authority of this State."

Gentlemen, you see that this law expressly requires the state officer to receive the U. States prisoner "into his custody, and to keep him safely," &c. Now the U. S. officers were not obliged to avail themselves of this statute. They might have kept their prisoner elsewhere if they had chosen. But they did not. They chose to commit him to the custody of the State officer, and after having done so they cannot now deny that he was in State custody. Both the fact and the law show, therefore, that the escape was from the custody of the State jailor, and not from that of Charles C. Cotton, and therefore the defendant must go acquit.

If the Court please, I have a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, that I think is directly in point. It is the case of Randolph vs. Donaldson, 7th Cranch, 76. It was an action of debt against the Marshal of the U. States, for the escape of a prisoner who had been committed to the State jail. The Court gave a decision of which the following is a part:

"The act of Congress of 24th September, 1789, Ch. 20, Sec. 27 and 28, authorizes the marshals of the several districts of the United States to appoint deputies, and declares them responsible for the defaults and misfeasances in office of such deputies. But there is no provision in any act of Congress declaring the keepers of state jails, who hold prisoners in custody under process of the United States, to be deputies of the marshals, or making the latter liable for escapes committed by the negligence or malfeasance of the former. If, therefore, the marshals be so liable, it is an inference from the general powers and duties annexed to their office.

"It is argued that the marshals are so liable because, in intendment of law, prisoners committed to state jails are still deemed to be in their custody; and in support of this argument is cited the provision in the act of congress, which makes the marshal, on the removal from or the expiration of his office responsible for the delivery to his successor of all prisoners in his custody, and authorizes him for that purpose, to retain such prisoners in his custody until his successor is appointed. And this argument is further supported by its analogy to the case of sheriffs, and by the extreme inconvenience which, it is asserted, would arise from a contrary doctrine.

"The argument is not without weight; but, upon mature consideration, we are of opinion that it cannot prevail. The act of congress has limited the responsibility of the marshal to his own acts and the acts of his deputies. The keeper of a state jail is neither in fact nor in law the deputy of the marshal. He is not appointed by, not removable at the will of the marshal. When a prisoner is regularly committed to a state jail by the marshal, he is no longer in the custody of the marshal, nor controllable by him.—The marshal has no authority to command or direct the keeper in respect to the nature of the imprisonment. The keeper becomes responsible for his own acts, and may expose himself by misconduct to the "pains and penalties" of the law. For certain purposes, and to certain intents, the state jail lawfully used by the United States may be deemed to be the jail of the United States and the keeper to be keeper of the United States. But this would no more make the marshal liable for his acts than for the acts of any other officer of the United States, whose appointment is altogether independent."

Here, then, is a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, showing that Glover was in the custody of the state jailor, and not in the custody of the Marshal.

The fact that Cotton sent two men there "to take care of Glover," and that Connover told them to take care of him, does not detract from the force of this position. They had no key, no control of the jail or of the prisoners in it.—Cotton could give them no such control. He cannot supersede the state laws, or appoint keepers to the prisoners in the state jails. He might take the prisoner out of the jail, but he could not govern or direct as to his keeping while in and so the Supreme Court decides.

I say, therefore, that there is a fatal variance between the allegations and the proof. And I ask you, Gentlemen of the Jury, if when the murderer goes acquit for a trifling variance—when the robber and assassin are turned loose upon community, to go unwhipped of justice because there is some slight defect in the proof will a jury of freemen go beyond the proof, to convict one of their fellow citizens, under a law that punishes mercy and humanity as a crime. Can you desire to convict if you can possibly acquit? I cannot believe it. But I believe that when men will attempt to enforce infamous and cruel laws, that punish justice and mercy, a jury will hold them to the strictest proof, and will not convict, when there is a plain variance sufficient even to let the murderer go free.

I have now, Gentlemen, presented as fully as I intended, the reasons why we claim of your consciences, a verdict of acquittal for this defendant. But there are one or two subjects to which I will allude before closing, as I apprehend they may be commented on by my learned friend, who is to follow me. He may perhaps allude to the fanaticism of those whose opinions are similar to the defendant's. If it should be done, I trust that the day has gone by when the cry of fanaticism, which has been raised against every truth and every reform that ever contributed to the advancement and happiness of man, is to close the minds of a jury against a full and fair examination of the great issue before them. I understand fanaticism to be an excessive devotion to one's opinions. If those opinions are right, this fanaticism or devotion, furnishes the zeal and courage which lead men to grapple with the mighty elements of opposition, which the cause of truth meets in the world, and to bear it onward in the paths of progress. If those opinions are wrong, this same fanaticism furnishes the zeal which scatters error and destruction abroad.—If it be fanaticism to hate tyranny from the inmost soul; to feel the blood rush warmer from the heart at the sight of cruelty and injustice; to feel a living faith in the great truths concerning human rights, taught by our fathers, and to be ready to defend those truths at the sacrifice of every thing, even life itself—if this be fanaticism, then it may be that this defendant is fanatical—then it may be, and I trust it is true, that there are many other fanatics in this land. If any man should do me the high honor to charge such fanaticism upon me, I should do all I could to convince my fellow men that the charge was true.

But there is another class of fanatics in this country. A class fanatical against fanaticism. They believe fanaticism to be so dangerous that they become fanatical in opposition to it. They become wild and violent against men, because they believe them to be wild and violent.

There is no instance where the peculiarities of this class of fanatics appear so plainly as in connection with this very subject, slavery and the fugitive Slave Act. The word abolitionist throws them into a fever. They seem to have as great a dread of it as evil spirits are supposed to have of the name of God or the sign of the cross. They seem to forget that abolitionist means nothing more nor less than one who desires to see abolished what every body knows to be wrong. Because some men are ultra in their opposition to slavery, these fanatics enlist in its defence. Because some refuse to obey the Fugitive Slave Act even though constitutional, on the ground that it is forbidden by a law higher than the constitution, they carry their fanaticism to such an insane length, as to deny this eternal truth, and impiously assert that a mere human instrument is the highest law for man,—the source and foundation of all human right. When men oppose the Fugitive Slave Law, they point to the constitution which they say requires slaves to be delivered up. And when it is answered that even admitting this, still Congress has no power over,—and that although it had, it could not so legislate as to deprive men of liberty without the trial by jury, without the habeas corpus and without due process of law,—these men overlook all that is in the constitution, in favor of liberty, and cast themselves, the constitution, and the interests and liberties of the Country, beneath the bloody wheels of this institution with a devotion as blind and fanatical, and I might say almost as incomprehensible, as that with which the Hindoo casts himself beneath the crushing wheels of Juggernaut.

But, gentlemen, I allude to this subject only to ask you to disregard it. And, whatever may be the fanaticism of the defendant or his counsel, or on the other hand of the prosecution,—that you will look at neither the one nor the other, but only at whatever of truth you may have heard from either. And that without reference to his political opinions you will decide the question whether he be guilty of a crime, with that singleness of purpose and pure impartiality with which you would each wish your own case to be judged by your fellow-men.

But, gentlemen, you will be told that these prosecutions, without reference to the mere personal interest of the defendant, are of the utmost importance, as settling whether or not we are to be governed by law. You may be appealed to by your regard and veneration for law to convict the defendant. We agree with the prosecution that these cases are of the utmost importance independent of their consequences to the defendant. We regard them as a struggle between the slave power and the people. And while the prosecution believes them to be important as settling whether law is to be executed, we believe them to be so, as settling whether LIBERTY IS TO BE EXECUTED.

I stand not here to argue against the general duty and importance of obedience to law. Neither have I the slightest fear that the people of this, or of any country, will ever break away from obedience to laws that deserve obedience. On the contrary the mass of men have ever been more inclined to abide by unjust laws, than to disobey just ones. And so far have they carried this, that they have even endured and are still enduring grievous wrong and injustice, which by by a manly and independent resistance they might have arrested, because they were inflicted in the name of law. In that lies the great danger to liberty.

Governments, taking advantage of the attachment of the people to laws, practice cruelty and oppression under its forms, while its substance and spirit are disregarded. And when we remember that it was law that cast Daniel into the lion's den, and the three into the fiery furnace; that it was law that made Socrates drink hemlock and nailed Christ to the cross, and would have executed Washington and the patriots of the Revolution as traitors, if the governments that made the law had had power to enforce it: when we remember that since governments have existed, prisons have resounded with the sighs and groans, and scaffolds have dripped with the blood of innocence, and human tears have flowed like water for suffering and wrong, all done in the name and by the authority of law—it seems to me that our minds should be set free from a slavish devotion to human law, and that we should learn to estimate it only at its true value. It may be the cooling fountain from which we drink life and health, or it may be the poison stream from which we drink destruction and death. It may be the dwelling that protects us from the storm, or which if its foundations be unsound may topple down upon our heads and bury us beneath the ruins. It may be the bulwark which guards us from danger, or the chain which binds us as slaves. In short, Gentlemen, law is a means and not an end,—a means for the protection of human rights, and they who would sacrifice those rights for the preservation of law, are guilty of the folly of sacrificing the end to the means.

And he who would have a right estimate of human laws, and desires to make them what they ought to be, should ever remember, what we are told by every standard writer, and what no sane believer in the existence of a God needs to be told by any one, that the laws of God are paramount to all human laws, and that the latter are of no validity if contrary to the former. The law of man should ever have a firm hold on the divine, as the vessel on the angry sea lets down its anchor and fastens itself to the steadfast globe. And when the human Legislator cuts loose from that eternal anchor-ground of natural justice and right, in spite of all that may be said of peace and union and the Constitution, the ship of state will go tossing and rolling, with its sails torn and its rudder lost, on the wild waves of human passion, as the vessel that has parted her cable and left her anchor is driven helplessly on the wild waters of the sea? Yes, Gentlemen, God is above men. And they might as well deny that the heaven is above the earth, as to assert that a human law can release us from our obligation to the divine. And I know of nothing in history to which to compare the delusion and folly of those men who assert this, except to that of those, who having fashioned a brazen idol with their own hands, fell down and worshipped it and called it Almighty God?

I make these remarks, gentlemen, in order to place before your minds, what I believe to be a true estimate of law, and to counteract as far as I may be able the powerful appeals which will be made by the prosecution, which unless we stop to reason and reflect might almost convince us that it is necessary to convict the defendant without law and against law, in order to illustrate the necessity of obedience to law.

The remarks we have made concerning the superiority of Divine over human law, have not been made because we deem that doctrine necessary to the acquittal of the defendant. We have made them because we believe them to be true; because we believe them to be appropriate on this occasion, and because we believe, if there ever was a law that should be held void by all courts and juries, as contrary to the first principles of natural right and justice, it is the Fugitive Slave Law. Yet, gentlemen, we wish you distinctly to understand that we deem this not at all necessary to our defence. For if that law were as lovely and just, as it is odious and wicked—if it were as much in harmony with the constitution as it is in violation of it—if it were a law which all good men would as much desire to see executed as they must now detest and abhor its execution—still you could not on your oaths, with the proof before you, convict the defendant. And although you may differ from us, although you may feel bound by this act, we ask you not therefore to conclude rashly that you must convict, but to examine those facts necessary to constitute a violation of it with the same care, the same strictness and favor to the accused that the law vouchsafes to the robber and assassin. And if you only do this, then whatever may be your individual opinions on the law, we know you must give a verdict of acquittal.

But, gentlemen, you may be told that the perpetuity of our government depends upon the execution of this law. My learned friend may urge upon you, as he did upon a jury in a similar trial not long since, that the great distinction between our government, and those of the old world, is that ours is a government of law, and theirs are governments of force. And that if the people so conduct here as to make it necessary to use force in the execution of the laws, that then all distinctions will be abolished and we shall have returned to the condition of the nations across the sea.

Let us examine somewhat into this distinction. And if the word law be used in the sense in which I believe my learned friend uses it—if that be law which the government declares to be law, then I am unable to see that such a distinction exists. For all the tyranny practiced on the masses of the old world, which grinds them in the dust, is practiced in the execution of laws made by their governments. I see not, therefore, why others as well as ours are not governments of law—why the judges and executioners of Emmet—the slaughterers of the Italian Patriots, and the oppressors of mankind everywhere, have not as good claim to be regarded as the friends of law, as the Judges, Commissioners, officers and others in this country who are executing the Fugitive Slave Law. They are all engaged in obedience to the enactments of their governments.

But, Gentlemen, there is in my judgment a distinction between our government and those of the old world, much deeper and broader, and more important than the one for which the Gentleman contends. It is that ours rests upon a foundation, broad as humanity, perpetual as the solid globe. That foundation is the inalienable, God-given right of the individual man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and the recognition of the truth that all government and all laws are established to protect those rights; that when they fail in this, they should be altered or abolished, and new ones instituted in their stead. When shall we learn to appreciate in all their immortal splendor, the sublime truths of the Declaration of Independence? When shall we learn to see even in the child of the outcast, whose mother has perished at its birth, and left it naked on the cold bosom of the earth, with father unknown, and without a relative who would not look upon it with shame and confusion of face—when shall we learn to see in this helpless child, with scarce the power to make its wailing heard by the passer by, that before which the majesty of all human government must bow—when shall we learn to see a holy light shining around it, and to hear a voice, as it were, from the common Father of us all, saying this is my child, and I have given to it rights that are beyond the reach of all the unhallowed power of man?

When we learn this, then shall we learn the true distinction between our government and those of the Old World. Then shall we learn that those governments only which enact justice and righteousness can secure peaceful obedience to the laws, and that those which violate the rights of men, must enforce their decrees by the bayonet and the cannon. And in short we shall then learn that it is the character of the laws enacted by any government, that determines whether it is to be a government of law, or a government of force. And when the people rise up almost universally against a law and refuse to obey it, the government may well conclude that the fault is in the law itself, and should see to it first that there is no beam in its own eye, before it makes very great efforts to draw the mote from the eyes of the people.

It is in vain to say that ours is a government of the people. It is so in theory I know. But by the union of the slaveholders, and by the corruption of the traffickers in the political shambles who have ever betrayed the North, and who throw in human rights as small change in their bargainings, many laws have been passed entirely repugnant to the wishes of the people. And when such acts outrage every principle of justice, and endanger the liberties and rights of all, the people never will obey them. Gentlemen! you yourselves would not obey this Fugitive Act.—You might not oppose its execution, but I believe there is not a man of you who would pursue the panting fugitive if the Marshal should call on you for that purpose, and yet this law requires you to do it. If you would, you would do that which a slaveholder would scorn to do, and which he would scorn you for doing.

Senator Wade, of Ohio, was reproved one day by a northern dough-face because he would not obey this law. Wade asked him if he would help catch slaves if the Marshall should call upon him. He said he would. Wade then turned to one of the Sothern Senators and asked the same question and the slave holder proudly replied, that he would see them damned first!

We hear a great deal from certain quarters about the sanctity of law, but it so happens that we seldom hear it except about laws in support of slavery. Laws for the protection of freemen are violated systematically and openly by certain States in the Union, yet the government never manifests the slightest concern in their behalf. It is only when slavery is in danger that it discovers such sanctity in law. Now the truth is that more is said than felt about this matter of the importance of mere law. The prosecutors here violate law every day. We all do. There is not a man on the jury, or in this room, who does not deliberately violate it. We have a law prohibiting the circulation of bank bills below a certain denomination, yet nobody pays the least attention to it. And if a law may be safely disregarded by the whole people, merely because it is foolish and inconvenient, without involving any principle, is it to produce such disastrous results to disregard a law confessedly infamous and at war with justice and humanity?

No, Gentlemen, the people of this Country never will obey this law. And on the spirit which prompts to this disobedience, I hang all my hopes for the perpetuation of our liberties. They disobey it, because they love true law and order and justice and right. And I have no more fear that because they disobey it, they will rush into anarchy and confusion, than I should have that the majestic stream that had swept away the barrier that man had placed in its track, would therefore rise above its banks, and attempt to pass the eternal limits set by its creator.

Yes, Gentlemen, when we learn to understand the true theory of our Government, then shall we know that the whole system of slavery is at war with that theory. That it is a system that carries us back not only to the Government of force of the old world, but far back to the barbarous ages, when might was right, and one class of the people could be subjected by brute force to the absolute control of another.

Then shall we learn that it is the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, that renders us most like the governments of force in Europe. For it is this only that requires force in its execution.—It was this that required the assistance of regular troops and volunteer scoundrels, with bayonets and cannon, to march with Burns along the streets of Boston, beneath the spot where Bunker's shaft points to heaven to tell where men had died for freedom!

Our country is passing through a fiery ordeal. Men may weakly shut their eyes to this truth, but it cannot be disguised. They may cry peace! peace! but that will not still the raging waves of the ocean. They cannot smother the volcano, nor the earthquake. Equally vain is it to attempt to reconcile antagonisms—to blend together in perpetual harmony and peace what God has divided by the eternal boundaries of good and evil. Our country is in the midst of a terrific struggle between the opposing elements of Liberty and Slavery. And whatever may have been our former opinions, the time is soon coming when every man must determine on which side he will be found. It is the hope of every friend of freedom in the world that we may come out safe and purified at last. But if this is not to be—if the re-acting waves of tyranny are to swallow us up, and we, too, are to have a government of force that executes its laws with bristling bayonets and bellowing cannon, and troops red with the blood of the peo[illegible] to the institution of Slavery we sh[illegible] owe it—it will be in the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law that the first precedents will be established.

I hope, therefore, that no appeals made to you will influence you to think that the interests of the country, or the cause of law and order requires the conviction of this defendant. But that on the contrary you will believe with us that the honor of our country and the interests of liberty, humanity and law unite with the evidence to require a verdict of acquittal.

Gentlemen, the fate of the defendant is with you. But whatever may be your finding as to him, I have faith to believe that the cause of liberty will receive no detriment by it. You may commit him to the dungeon, but—

Eternal spirit of the chainless mind,
Brightest in dungeons liberty! thou art,
For there thy habitation is the heart,
The heart which love of thee alone can bind,
And when thy sons to fetter are consigned,
To fetters and the damp vault's dayless gloom,
Their country conquers with their martyrdom,
And freedom's fame finds wings on every wind.

You may commit this defendant to prison, but think you there is a man within the jurisdiction of this Court, that for this, would sooner obey the Fugitive Act? Never! never! On the contrary, I know not but such sacrifices are necessary to fill up the cup of its iniquities, and make the people detest and abhor it with that perfect hatred, that shall yet lead them to sweep it before them with the besom of destruction.

But, gentlemen, I hope that these things will never need to be. I still hope for safety from the juries of the country. A firm and independent jury, saved the cause of the people in the trial of the Bishops in England. The libel cases in England were a struggle between the government and the people, as these slave law trials are here. Macauley gives a most interesting account of the trial of the Bishops for libel. An intense excitement pervaded the whole people, and when the verdict of acquittal was announced the whole nation shouted for joy. When the jury first went out, one man professed to have some doubts. Another of the jurors, a country gentleman, I believe, replied, "Look at me! I am the largest man on the panel. But I will stay here till I am no bigger than a tobacco-pipe, before I will find the Bishops guilty." I hope my friend (Trest) who enjoys that pre-eminence in this jury will make a similar virtuous resolution. And if he does we shall at all events be certain that the defendant will suffer nothing for sometime to come.

I say, Gentlemen, that I still have hope from the juries of the country. And in this case, although the government may have departed from its duty, and trampled on the constitution to enact laws dangerous to the rights of the people, although courts are found who uphold those laws, and although prosecutors strain every nerve and put forth all their power, to bring down vengeance on the head of this defendant, I still have faith that the jury will stand as an impassable barrier between the government and its selected victim, that you will throw around him a twelve-fold shield, upon which the storms of tyranny will fall in vain. I still have faith that your verdict, like that of the acquittal of the Bishops will add another instance illustrating the value of the jury trial, that it will show that the jury is ever found on the side of JUSTICE, LIBERTY, AND THE PEOPLE.

Abstract of the Report of the Secretary of State.

GENERAL FUND.—This fund is derived from arrearages to the territory, taxes, pedlars' licenses, and the Judiciary Fund. The receipts for the last year were $191,299 48, and the payments $92,154 12.

JUDICIARY FUND.—The sum of $7,315 59 has been paid over to the Treasury in all since 1849, leaving $2,668 50 not accounted for. The Secretary recommends action in order to secure the payment of this sum by the Clerks, and regulate the matter in future.

FUND FOR THE BLIND.—A balance of $405 84, which belonged to this fund, has been carried over to the General Fund, as appropriations for the Blind are now made from that fund.

SCHOOL FUND.—The sales of school land for the past year, have amounted to $33,820 07. The whole receipts into the fund have been $119,678 19, and the disbursements $84,996 06, leaving a balance of $34,682 13. Of the disbursements, however, $73,663 73 were in the shape of loans of the fund; and of the amount given as receipts, $34,094 92 came over from the previous year.

The Secretary gives the following as the present condition of the fund:

Due on certificates of sale	$1,374,485 69
Error in books for '52 and '53	40,977 41
Amount of Loans from Fund	229 314 21
In Treasury	34,682 03
	$1,679,258 77

All of which, except the sum on hand, is drawing interest at 7 per cent, and constitutes the School Fund Income. The receipts of income for the past year with the balance from last, were $123,700 13, and the disbursements $97,-087 98. The Secretary thinks the loans and sales during the winter will bring the amount to be apportioned in March, up to $145,000.

The University Fund is represented as amounting to $100,660 49. The income for the year is estimated at $13,000.

The Improvement Fund seems to remain about the same as last year, a balance of 39 cents being in the Treasury after disbursing $128.

The following is a recapitulation of the receipts and disbursements of all the Funds:

	Receipts.	Payments.
General Fund	$191 299 48	$272 154 12
School Fund	85,683 27	84 996 06
School Fund Income	106,235 03	97,183 98
University Fund	9,945 59	21 898 93
University Income	8,775 07	19,640 44
Improvement Fund	......	129 00
	$401,828 42	$437,007 43

To these footings must be added the balances for and against the several funds on the 1st of January, 1854, as follows:

General Fund		$ 8,110 76
School Fund	$34 094 92
School Income	17,465 10
University Fund	10,867 22
University Income	2,998 56
Improvement Fund	129 39
And we have	$107,385 60	$445,118 13

Showing a nominal balance on the better side of $22,-267 47. (In another place, the Secretary estimates the State indebtedness for the State Prison at about $95,000; and the authorized State debt in bonds issued is $100,000.)

The list of receipts into and disbursements from the General and School Funds, and accounts audited under various laws, is full and interesting. The State tax from each county is given in the first quarter of the General Fund, Milwaukee county paying the highest sum ($15,-824 83,) and Marathon county the least ($450). Several counties, however, were not returned till late in the year.

The mileage and per diem of the Legislature amounted to $26,594 40—the sums paid for printing and newspapers to $33,791 51—for expenses of Impeachment Trial $10,-690 00—for postage $7,049 48—for south wing of State Prison $10,449 28.

The amount paid for appraising school lands was about $5,000.

The total revenue of the State for 1855, (containing, however, several doubtful items,) is estimated at $258,926

The State Equalization Board performed its duties under considerable embarrassment, nearly half of the counties having failed to make their returns, and the Secretary alludes to the necessity of fair returns of valuation. The following tables are condensed from the one giving the full labor of the Board:

Number of acres of land	8,013,496
Equalized valuation per acre	$6 01
Valuation of lands, (equalized)	51,803 592
Valuation of lots, "	6,334,182
Valuation of pers. prop. "	6,038 000
Aggregate valuation, "	64,485,714
State Tax	225,000

The aggregate assessed valuation was $27,613,719. (The guess of the State Board is probably somewhere near $30,-000,000 of the truth.)

The following is the total valuation, as equalized, in the counties, as named:

Counties	Valuation.	Counties.	Valuation.
Adams,	$193,000	Manitowoc,	1,232,560
Bad Ax,	297 710	Marathon,	137,594
Brown,	750,100	Marquette,	1,696,690
Buffalo,	35,000	Milwaukee,	6,630,690
Calumet,	608,990	Monroe,	65,000
Chippewa,	195,000	Oconto,	115,444
Clark,	137,936	Outagamie,	700,000
Columbia,	2,580,828	Ozaukee,	3,095,000
Crawford,	235 688	Pierce,	250,000
Dane,	4,763,056	Polk,	103,000
Dodge,	3 869,480	Portage,	450,000
Door,	25,000	Racine,	2,800 000
Douglas,	5 000	Richland,	390,000
Dunn,	50,000	Rock,	4,453,940
Fond du Lac,	3,050,000	St Croix,	292,300
Grant,	2,606,805	Sauk,	1,457 032
Green,	2,091 296	Shawano,	80 000
Iowa,	1,035,395	Sheboygan,	1,800,000
Jackson,	98,206	Trempeleau,	35,000
Jefferson,	2,572,716	Walworth,	3 151,296
Kewaunee,	110,000	Washington,	1 785,008
Kenosha,	2,193,290	Waukesha,	3,144 920
La Crosse,	035,000	Waupaca,	163,000
La Fayette,	1,710,000	Waushara,	269 130
La Pointe,	6,000	Winnebago,	1,489,700
Total,			$61,285,715

A long account is given of the various bids for the State Printing. Thirteen bids were received, and the Secretary decided that of James Densmore to be the lowest; but Beriah Brown appealed to the Governor, State Treasurer and Attorney General, who awarded the latter the contract.

Under the head of "Elections," a statement is given of the general elections held during the year, and legislation is recommended in order to provide greater regularity in the returns. The average majority against a change from Annual to Biennial Sessions was almost 5,000, the total vote being only about 18,000, or less than one-third the vote of the State.

The amount expended for newspapers at the last session is stated at [illegible] 22, and the consequent postage at $4,-124 78—a total of $10,196 00.

The Secretary states that the provisions of the law of 1850, requiring foreign Insurance Companies to file certain sworn statements in his office, are almost totally disregarded.

He recommends that the act for the Registration of Marriages either be repealed, or so amended that the records shall be kept in the county offices.

The progress of expenses of this State is shown by a table of which we give the footings:

1849	$94,071 31
1850	71,671 38
1851	112,620 80
1852	123,474 06
1853	163,910 58
1854	292,134 12

The estimated expenses for 1855, under general heads, are as follows:

Salaries	$32,650 00
Permanent appropriations	8,700 00
Legislative expenses	19,025 00
Postage*	1,000 00
Incidental Printing*	5,000 00
Stationery for next Legislature†	2,000 00
Miscellaneous‡	162,127 72
Sundry expenses of 1854	23,045 80

(The items marked * are manifestly too small; that of postage clearly so, and as to the printing, there being no other estimate for it, it must be too small by at least $20,-000. These, with the one marked ‡ make up $4,000, which does not appear to be included in the Secretary's Recapitulation, which amounts to $253,059 52, and if added, brings up the estimate to $261,059 52, or, adding $20,000 to the expense estimated for printing, to $281,057 52. How much the business of the Insane Asylum may add to this, remains to be seen. The Secretary has included in his figures, $20,000 for this purpose, but it is either too much or too little, depending upon the action of the Legislature. We notice, also, that there is no estimate for the expenses of Sergeant-at-Arms and assistants). This item includes $95,138 72, stated as the indebtedness for prisoners, and the south wing of the State Prison.)

Several of the counties are still in arrears to the State, the aggregate indebtedness being $15,073 16.

A general deduction from the financial statements of the Report is that of the estimated expenses of the State Government for 1854, the sum of $118,184 52, or nearly one half, comes to this Legislature as a legacy from the past year, leaving the whole of the expenses, ordinary and extraordinary, salaries, legislature, printing, postage, the Asylums and support of the State Prison, interest on State Loan, Lunatic Asylum, and all contingent expenses to be provided for.

THE RESCUE TRIAL.—BOOTH CONVICTED.—The trial of S. M. Booth, indicted for aiding in the escape of GLOVER, was concluded on the 14th inst. and a verdict rendered of GUILTY! This was not unexpected,—heaven and earth being moved for six months on the part of his prosecutors, to accomplish it. We cannot censure the court, marshals or jury because they do the work of their masters and do it well,—receiving their reward. It is public opinion we censure, because without an ignorant, debauched and nigger loving, Anglo-Saxon-hating state of public opinion no such thing as slave-catching could be legalized. Let the law rip, and its operations will aid in ripping up this heinous, runaway nigger institution. The conviction of a few more citizens of Wisconsin would break down the Law and fasten everlasting infamy upon all who have ever made a business of enforcing it.—[Grant Co. Herald.

CITY MATTERS.

Police Court—Jan. 25.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH ESQ' POLICE JUSTICE.

CHARGE OF STEALING.—A warrant was issued against John Pierson, alias, charging him with stealing one pair of sheets and one sheet of the value of $2,50 of the property of Peter Berngasser. The property is alleged to have been stolen on the 14th January.

A man named George Qoche was arrested and brought into court by officer Meyers, on a warrant charging him with threatening to kill Arba W. Wood. The defendant gave bail in the sum of $250 to appear on the 27th and to keep the peace in the mean time.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY AT AUCTION.—There will be offered for sale at the chequered Auction Rooms this evening and to-morrow evening a large stock of Watches and Jewelry direct from New York City. The stock consists of Watches of different value, from $50 to $200; a large assortment of Chains, Fob and Vest, Ladies Jewelry of all kinds and of the choicest patterns. They will be sold to the highest bidder without reserve. The stock is valued at $10,000, and is sold on assignment from an Importing House in New York.

BOILER MAKING AND BLACKSMITHING.—Messrs. CUMMINGS and GOODRICH, corner of Main and Chicago Streets Boiler Makers and Blacksmiths, are now prepared, in their new brick building, to furnish boilers or blacksmith work for vessels, &c., on the shortest notice. Their last year's work amounted to upwards of $20,000, and gave entire satisfaction. In their new establishment, with increased facilities, they advertise to make boilers of any size, on the shortest notice, and to do all kinds of blacksmithing; warranting all work turned out by them.

ROBBERY IN A BOARDING HOUSE.—A man named Richard Moloy was arrested last night by officer Parsons and lock charged with stealing a hundred dollars in gold from an old man named Michael McGowan on Wednesday night.—The old man had come in, to pay some money upon his land and staid in a house in the Second Ward and during the night was robbed of his money, suspicion fell upon the arrested man from his having slept in the same bed with McGowan. No money was found upon him.—He was taken to jail.

ANOTHER SNOW STORM.—The snow fell during most of yesterday, adding several inches to our already large stock. As night closed in, it came down thicker and faster, the wind piped up from the northeast, and there was a good show for a second edition of Sunday's storm.

The Lunatic Asylum Contract.

This remarkable contract of the "Balance" has at length seen the light, in the shape of a Report to the Assembly. It came as gracefully as the drawing of a tooth. We have examined it a little, and think from appearances there can be no doubt that Barstow intends to provide for the Balance during their natural lives, and their children after them, even unto the fifth and sixth generation. The following are the items of cost as we take them from the contract, and we have taken the trouble to compare them with the usual prices of work and material in Madison. It was not without reason truly that our contractors never got a sight of the specifications, so as to make a bid, which we have been informed was the case. By comparing the two columns, and estimate, exceedingly flattering, can be formed of the rare financial talent of our Executive.

For all Joiner work on main building,	$7,495 00
do on each wing,	4,965 00
Extra items not included in schedule, that may be needed on main building,	$1 800
Similar work on each wing,	1,200

* This item is entirely vague. Rubble work costs from $2,50 to $3,00 in Madison. Rough masonry costs $1,50, and everything found.

†Cut stone masonry. If this item means such cut stone masonry as the Capitol House, that cost $3 00 per perch. If it means fine cut or tooled work, such as caps and sills, the highest price ever paid in Madison is 50 cents per foot, or $8 per perch. Mechanics will contract any day at the prices we have named, and for any amount or class of work, or material.

By the plan, there are to be three transverse, and three longitudinal wings, in addition to the main building. Completed under this contract, the building will cost from $250,000 to $500,000. In fact we see no limit but the Contractor's conscience. It is a regular Barstow transaction, having all the appearance of fraud.

There were but two bids in,—the one accepted from Andrew Proudfit, the other from C. H. Lamar and Arthur Besley. The matter will have a searching investigation.—Madison Patriot, (dem.)

THE MARKETS.

OFFICE DAILY SENTINEL,
MILWAUKEE, January 26, 1855.

RECEIPTS BY M. & M. RAIL ROAD, Jan. 24th—1018 bus. wheat, 78 bbls flour, 57 do high wines, 21 hides, 10 deer, 15 bdls brooms, 376 hogs, 1650 feet black walnut lumber.

RECEIPTS BY M. & W. RAILROAD, Jan. 24—860 bus wheat, 222 do barley, 135 bbls flour, 176 hogs, 10,000 broom sticks.

Light receipts yesterday, and market opened at Wednesday's rates, with a slight decline in Pork. About noon the news of the Pacific's arrival was received at the Sentinel office and issued in an extra, and buyers of Flour and wheat immediately stepped out. Prices will doubtless give way somewhat under the influence of her news. No change in Barley, Oats, or Rye.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25th.

Stocks active this morning. Sales of Virginia Sixes at 96¾, of Missouri's at 89, of Louisiana's at 79 and of Indiana fives at 81¾.

In Rail Road bonds the business amounted to $115,000; the new Erie bonds selling at 90a91, Illinois Central 72¾ @73, and New York Central 81.

Money is more abundant, rates of interest easier and confidence slowly reviving.

Holloway's Pills a certain cure for Asthma.—These Pills have effected several wonderful cures of these complaints. The following is one out of five hundred: Jas. Earnshaw, of Philadelphia, suffered with asthma for fifteen months, the continual cough completely shook his system, caused him to spit blood, and at times almost choked him. Everything he ate he vomited and he became the mere ghost of his former self. Holloway's Pills in this instance, were as usual, efficacious, (aided as they were by the Ointment, which he well rubbed into his chest,) and in seven weeks by these remedies, he was cured; he has since regained his wonted strength, and warmly recommends Holloway's medicines to his fellow citizens.

J. CROUCH—UNDERTAKER.

An office of the FOREST HOME CEMETERY will hereafter be kept at the store of J. CROUCH, undertaker Spring Street, opposite the American House, where all applications may be made and receipts given for lots single graves, or interments. Persons wishing to select lots or burying places, will be accompanied to the Cemetery free of charge, by Mr. Crouch, who has plats and is thoroughly acquainted with all parts of the grounds.

CITY LAND OFFICE.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY WHICH SELDOM OFFERS

I HAVE FOR SALE THE DWELLING HOUSE AND TWO LOTS of A W HATCH, Esq, corner of Van Buren and Martin sts The property is the most desirable and valuable in our city The house is one of comfort and convenience There are arrangements in this house that you will seldom find The house, from the outward appearance is frame, but in fact it is a brick house, and better than a brick, for it is filled in with brick, and then lined upon the brick, and then weather boarded Twenty cords of wood will keep this house warm and comfortable through the winter, where it will take sixty cords to keep others comfortable There are two parlors and four other rooms on the first floor, and five or six chambers in second story, together with wood house, barn, cistern, well &c, &c, and also a yard, filled with fruit trees and shrubbery

The property is worth and I could have sold it early last summer or fall, for ten or twelve thousand dollars but it can now be purchased at a great bargain, and he who should be so lucky as to get it, will win a prize It must and will be sold within the next ten days All who have any offers to make, call on me and I will tell them the price and terms jan17 CALEB WALL

$250 REWARD!

WHEREAS, It is believed that the several fires which occurred on the nights of Tuesday and Wednesday of the present week, which have been so destructive of property, were the work of incendiaries Now, therefore, by virtue of the Ordinance in such cases made and provided, I BYRON KILBOURN, Mayor of the City of Milwaukee, do hereby offer a reward of TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS, to be paid by said city to any person or persons who shall give such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person concerned in setting or causing either of said fires, whereby any of the several buildings were destroyed on either of said nights If more than one person was acting in causing said fires, said reward is to be paid to the full amount for each one who may be convicted thereof, to the person or persons furnishing the information leading to such arrest and conviction

And furthermore, I hereby in like manner offer a reward of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS to any person or persons who will give such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person who has set fire to any house or barn within this city during the past year of 1854, whereby such house or barn or other buildings have been destroyed or seriously damaged

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand officially, this 5th day of January 1855

Steamship Geo Law with California mails and passengers and $1 251,000 in gold, arrived this morning There had been no rain, till the day the steamer left San Francisco, when a tremendous storm prevailed, doing extensive damage The Miners have suffered much for want of rain Sacramento has been declared by the Supreme Court, the Capital of the State. A general stampede of State prisoners took place on 27th Dec About 30 escaped Some fears entertained as to next season's crops.

The Legislature met at the Capital on the 1th The election of U S Senator, is the exciting question Gwin & Broderick are the rival candidates Business has suffered greatly from the long drouth, the supplies of gold having been partially cut off. Prices have not materially changed Some speculation in Flour & Grain.

One Week Later from Europe.

Arrival of the Pacific—Talk of Peace—Hostilities on the Danube—Markets, &c.

New York, Jan 25

The U S Mail Steamer Pacific with Liverpool dates to the 12th, arrived this morning, with 2 passengers. On her outward trip, in running up the Mersey the Pacific sunk a brig, bound to Calcutta, with a cargo valued at $100 000—No lives lost The loss of the packet ship Geo Canning, of this port, is confirmed It is feared that all on board, 160 in number, perished, some papers and luggage belonging to her having washed ashore at Heligoland, which is all that is known of her fate She was bound to Hamburg

The Eastern question has assumed an entirely new phase. Prince Gortschakoff has announced to the Austrian Government that the Czar has accepted, not only the four points of guarantee, but also the interpretation given to them by Austria, England and France But as no armistice is provided for, hostilities continue while negotiations are going on,

Sardinia has joined the Western Alliance—The conduct of Prussia and the German States continues equivocal The sincerity of Russia is doubted, and consols which at first advanced one per cent, fell back again The Allies will insist on reducing Russian naval force in Black Sea, and to this, it is said, Russia will not consent

Heavy failures are reported in London Large amounts of the new French Loan have been taken in England at 2a3 per ct premium. The Russians have again invaded the Principalities, having crossed the Danube, entered the Dobrudsha, and taken both Tultcha and Babadagh.—Sadik Pasha defended Tultcha to the last Prussia refuses to mobilize her army, as demanded by Austria,

In regard to siege of Sebastopol, nothing new has transpired. The weather continues variable The railway from Balaklava was to be finished at once, The fire of the Allies continues very feeble Sickness is on the increase. There was a report in Paris on the 12th that Sebastopol had fallen, but it was not credited. Omar Pasha has embarked for the Crimea He will take 50 000 men and 600 guns It is positively asserted that the 5th or 6th of January had been fixed upon for the storm of Sebastopol.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS—Cotton advanced, Breadstuffs dull and rather lower. Richardson quotes Western Canal Flour 41s, Philadelphia 44sa46s. Corn 42a45s Lard 8s

THE LATEST—A Courier arrived from Bucharest confirms report of re commencement of war on Danube. The Russians in force crossed river above Tultcha took the town and were marching on Katchkiu There was no interference on part of Austrians. This report caused some consternation!

PIANO FORTE WARE-ROOM!

Where he will keep on hand a good assortment of the celebrated

AMERICAN ACTION PIANO FORTES,

Manufactured by GEORGE HEWS, of Boston, Mass

The Patent American Action Piano Forte is distinguished for its great fullness richness and sweetness of tone, evenness of scale, and delicacy of touch The improvement in the Action renders it less liable to derangement, and is so greatly facilitates execution Numerous medals, diplomas and certificates have been received from various fairs and industrial exhibitions in different cities of the Union from the World's Fair at London, and flattering testimonials from the profession, residents at Boston and elsewhere, among which are the following

From the illustrious Pianist, L M GOTTSCHALK, to Mr HEWS, Agent at New York

NEW YORK, Dec 5, 1853.

MR N J CURTISS—

Dear Sir Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo Hews' American Action Piano at the World's Fair in this city the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Wareroom, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public I am very glad of the improvement in the action Those instruments likewise are of excellent tone owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales

Very Respectfully, L M GOTTSCHALK

From the distinguished Pianist, WILLIAM MASON

MR HEWS—Having repeatedly played upon the Piano Fortes manufactured by you, with the American Action, I am free to acknowledge, that for certainty and elasticity of action, power, purity and equality of tone, I have never seen them surpassed in the square Piano Forte

WILLIAM MASON

Purchasers and lovers of music in general, are respectfully invited to call and examine these instruments These Pianos will be sold at Boston prices, and warranted to give satisfaction in every respect

CITY LAND OFFICE.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY WHICH SELDOM OFFERS

I HAVE FOR SALE THE DWELLING HOUSE AND TWO Lots of A W HATCH, Esq, corner of Van Buren and Martin sts The property is the most desirable and valuable in our city The house is one of comfort and convenience There are arrangements in this house that you will seldom find The house, from the outward appearance is frame, but in fact it is a brick house, and better than a brick, for it is filled in with brick, and then lined upon the brick and then was boarded Twenty cords of wood will keep this house warm and comfortable through the winter, whereas will take sixty cords to keep others comfortable There are two parlors and four other rooms on the first floor, and five or six chambers in second story, together with wood house, barn, cistern, well &c, &c, and also a yard, filled with fruit trees and shrubbery

The property is worth and I could have sold it early last summer or fall, for ten or twelve thousand dollars but it can now be purchased at a great bargain, and he who should be so lucky as to get it, will win a prize It must and will be sold within the next ten days All who have any offers to make, call on me and I will tell them the price and terms jan17 CALEB WALL

$250 REWARD!

WHEREAS, It is believed that the several fires which occurred on the nights of Tuesday and Wednesday of the present week, which have been so destructive of property, were the work of incendiaries Now, therefore, by virtue of the Ordinances in such cases made and provided, I BYRON KILBOURN, Mayor of the City of Milwaukee, do hereby offer a reward of TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS, to be paid by said city to any person or persons who shall give such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person concerned in setting or causing either of said fires, whereby any of the several buildings were destroyed on either of said nights If more than one person is acting in causing said fires, said reward is to be paid to the full amount for each one who may be convicted thereof, to the person or persons furnishing the information leading to such arrest and conviction

And furthermore, I hereby in like manner offer a reward of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS to any person or persons who will give such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person who has set fire to any house or barn in this city during the past year of 1854, whereby such house or barn or other buildings have been destroyed or seriously damaged

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand officially, this 5th day of January 1855

Steamship Geo Law with California mails and passengers and $1 251,000 in gold, arrived this morning There had been no rain, till the day the steamer left San Francisco, when a tremendous storm prevailed, doing extensive damage The Miners have suffered much for want of rain Sacramento has been declared by the Supreme Court, the Capitol of the State. A general stampede of State prisoners took place on 27th Dec About 30 escaped Some fears entertained as to next season's crops.

The Legislature met at the Capitol on the 1th The election of U S Senator, is the exciting question Gwin & Broderick are the rival candidates Business has suffered greatly from the long drouth, the supplies of gold having been partially cut off Prices have not materially changed Some speculation in Flour & grain.

One Week Later from Europe.

Arrival of the Pacific—Talk of Peace—Hostilities on the Danube—Markets, &c.

New York, Jan 25

The U S Mail Steamer Pacific with Liverpool dates to the 12th, arrived this morning, with 2 passengers. On her outward trip, in running up the Mersey the Pacific sunk a brig, bound to Calcutta, with a cargo valued at $100 000—No lives lost The loss of the packet ship Geo Canning, of this port, is confirmed It is feared that all on board, 160 in number, perished, some papers and luggage belonging to her having washed ashore at Heligoland, which is all that is known of her fate She was bound to Hamburg

The Eastern question has assumed an entirely new phase. Prince Gortschakoff has announced to the Austrian Government that the Czar has accepted, not only the four points of guarantee, but also the interpretation given to them by Austria, England and France But as no armistice is provided for, hostilities continue while negotiations are going on,

Sardinia has joined the Western Alliance—The conduct of Prussia and the German States continues equivocal The sincerity of Russia is doubted, and consols which at first advanced two per cent, fell back again The Allies will insist on reducing Russian naval force in Black sea, and to this, it is said, Russia will not consent

Heavy failures are reported in London Large amounts of the new French Loan have been taken in England at 2a3 per ct premium. The Russians have again invaded the Principalities, having crossed the Danube, entered the Dobrudscha, and taken both Tultscha and Babadagh.—Sadik Pasha defended Tultcha to the last Prussia refuses to mobilize her army, as demanded by Austria,

In regard to siege of Sebastopol, nothing new has transpired. The weather continues variable The railway from Balaklava was to be finished at once. The fire of the Allies continues very feeble Sickness is on the increase. There was a report in Paris on the 12th that Sebastopol had fallen, but it was not credited. Omar Pasha has embarked for the Crimea He will take 50 000 men and 600 guns It is positively asserted that the 5th or 6th of January had been fixed upon for the storm of Sebastopol.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS—Cotton advanced, Breadstuffs dull and rather lower. Richardson quotes Western Canal Flour 41s, Philadelphia 44sa16s. Corn 42a47s Lard 8s

THE LATEST —A Courier arrived from Bucharest confirms report of re commencement of war on Danube. The Russians in force crossed river above Tultscha took the town and were marching on Katchkin There was no interference on part of Austrians. This report caused some consternation!

New Edition of an Old Theory.

Dr A L ADAMS' theory that impurity is the cause of all forms of disease is an old one But we confess that he talks it up in a new way And certainly we cannot dispute any of the propositions contained in his Medical tract The simple theory there presented is confounding the wisdom of the wise But we care not whether his theory is positively true or not in all points one thing is certain, the Dr's LIVER BALSAM is taking the precedent of all other compounds, in all places where it has been introduced Give it a trial, sick man, woman or child

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTFULLY announce to the Public, that he has opened, on

Spring Street, Opposite the American House,

A NEW

PIANO FORTE WARE-ROOM!

Where he will keep on hand a good assortment of the celebrated

AMERICAN ACTION PIANO FORTES,

Manufactured by GEORGE HEWS, of Boston, Mass

The Patent American Action Piano Forte is distinguished for its great fullness richness and sweetness of tone, evenness of scale, and delicacy of touch The improvement in the Action renders it less liable to derangement, and it so greatly facilitates execution Numerous medals, diplomas and certificates have been received from various fairs and industrial exhibitions in different cities of the Union from the World's Fair at London, and flattering testimonials from the profession, residents at Boston and elsewhere, among which are the following

From the illustrious Pianist, L M GOTTSCHALK, to Mr HEWS, Agent at New York

NEW YORK, Dec 5, 1843.

MR N J CURTISS —

Dear Sir Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo Hews' American Action Piano at the World's Fair in this city the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Wareroom, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public I am very glad of the improvement in the action These instruments likewise are of excellent tone owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales

Very Respectfully, L M GOTTSCHALK

From the distinguished Pianist, WILLIAM MASON

Mr HEWS —Having repeatedly played upon the Piano Fortes manufactured by you, with the American Action, I am free to acknowledge, that for certainty and elasticity of action, power, purity and equality of tone, I have never seen them surpassed in the square Piano Forte

WILLIAM MASON

Purchasers and lovers of music in general, are respectfully invited to call and examine these instruments These Pianos will be sold at Boston prices, and warranted to give satisfaction in every respect

CHEAP BOOKS.

EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS
TO
The Reading Public.

Either of the following five works will be sent free of postage, on receipt of the price annexed.

The Abduction Trials, and Adventures of Paynela Mandeville,

Wife of Augustus H. Mandeville, of Baltimore, who was stolen from her husband at Bogota, New Grenada, by a band of Spanish Robbers, and by them detained in their mountain fastnesses for thirteen months, there having gone through the most terrible scenes that the imagination can picture; the whole, forming the most truly wonderful narrative of actual occurrences ever yet placed before the reading community. Written by her Husband.—Price 12½ cents.

A THRILLING AND STARTLING WORK:

The Authentic Confessions of William Masterson,

The Cruel Murderer of his Father and Mother! Together with a complete account of his various Robberies and Murders, including that of Mrs. Manning, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the criminal Miss Emma Martin. Added to which is the history of the most fiendish Murderer, and expert Burglar and Pickpocket, Thomas Little, the accomplice of Masterson. Price 12½ cents.

The Beautiful Jewess, Rachel Mendoza.

Her lamentable connection with the dark and eventful career of Charles Bernard, otherwise called "Prince Charles," by George Lippard, the determination of whose adventures in Madrid, near the Palace of the Queen, has created so much comment, and such intense interest in the American press.

Thousands throughout the United States are familiar with portions of the career of "Prince Charles," but this narrative sets out in plain colors his whole career, especially his connection with the rich and beautiful Jewess, Rachel Mendoza, who only a year ago mingled in the first circles of New York. After relating his adventures in the United States, this narrative conducts us to Madrid, to the Royal Court of Spain, revealing the secrets of the life of Queen Isabella. Price 15 cents.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES! MYSTERIES SOLVED!

ON THE HISTORY OF

ESTHER LIVINGSTONE,

And dark career of Henry Baldwin. By George Lippard. This narrative not only pictures the singular career of Esther Livingstone, and the crimes of Henry Baldwin, but the scenes in which they were actors in the Mammoth Cave, are related by the wretched Baldwin, in a bold, truthful, but absorbing style. And the murder of Miss Annie Hanly, in Charleston, on the night of her marriage, is in these pages terribly explained. Price 15 cts.

The Rival's Revenge! or The Lovely Quakeress,

CATHARINE MIDDLETON,

The Skillful Gamester in Disguise. Her singular career with the startling developments in the life of Don Senor Jacinto, "The Maniac Priest." Price 12½ cents.

TERMS.—The above Five Thrilling and Interesting Volumes will be sent to any address in the United States and Canadas free of postage, on the receipt of 50 cents.—Postmasters or others, remitting two dollars, the above five books will be sent to five persons, free of postage; or on the receipt of five dollars they will be sent to fifteen persons. Larger clubs in the same proportion.

GREEN AND DRIED FRUIT, Fish, Nuts, &c.,
NO. 101 EAST WATER ST., MILWAUKEE.

3,000 BARRELS OF
WINTER APPLES,

IN WINTER QUARTERS ALL THE TIME, WHICH almost any emergency will bring out, and at reasonable rates, too. My Fruit has been selected with great care, and I can assert, without fear of contradiction, that there are none better in market.

All orders left with me this week, or at any other time during the winter, will receive prompt attention, as I do not intend to get it so far into winter quarters but that the Almighty Dollar will act as a magnet of sufficient force to draw it out.

My stock of DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS of all kinds, and FISH of every description, is unusually large, of the very best quality.

City and Country Dealers are invited to call and examine my stock and prices, as I am confident I can offer them greater inducements to purchase than any other house in the West.

N. B.—Specie payments not exacted. nov16

BROTHER JONATHAN
COOK STOVE,

I have sold the B. J. for the past three years. It has been thoroughly tested by thousands who will testify that it is the most complete Cook Stove that can be. I have four sizes of B. J. There is a summer attachment to the stove which will make half difference less of the amount of fuel used in the Summer season and does away with all unnecessary heat which other stoves make that have not the attachment. The oven is much larger than any other stove of the same size furniture. I warrant the stove to give complete satisfaction, if not, to be returned and money refunded. I will refer you to hundreds of the citizens of Milwaukee that are using the Stove.

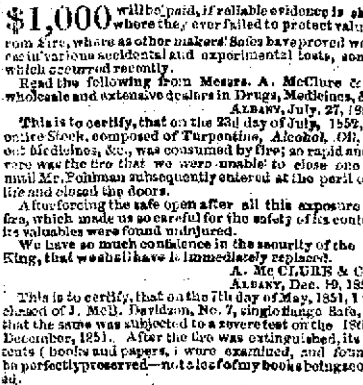
FireKing Safe, again Triumphant.



$1,000 will be paid, if reliable evidence is shown where they ever failed to protect valuables from fire, where as other makers' Safes have proved worthless in various accidental and experimental tests, some of which occurred recently.

Read the following from Messrs. A. McClure & Co., wholesale and extensive dealers in Drugs, Medicines, &c.

ALBANY, July 27, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 23d day of July, 1852, our entire Stock, composed of Turpentine, Alcohol, Oil, Patent Medicines, &c., was consumed by fire; so rapid and severe was the fire that we were unable to close one safe until Mr. Pohlman subsequently entered at the peril of his life and closed the doors.

After forcing the safe open after all this exposure and fire, which made us so careful for the safety of its contents, its valuables were found uninjured.

We have so much confidence in the security of the Fire King, that we shall have it immediately replaced.
A. McCLURE & CO.

ALBANY, Dec. 19, 1851.

This is to certify, that on the 7th day of May, 1851, I purchased of J. McB. Davidson, No. 7, single flange Safe, and that the same was subjected to a severe test on the 18th of December, 1851. After the fire was extinguished, its contents (books and papers,) were examined, and found to be perfectly preserved—not a leaf of my books being scorched.
P. J. CLAASSEN,
Importer of Wines, Cigars, &c., Broadway, Albany.

After an examination of P. J. Claassen's Safe and papers, we are convinced of the superiority of Davidson's Safes over all others.

J. McB. DAVIDSON'S FIRE KING SAFE—Fire Proof, and free from Dampness.
W. A. NEEF, Agent, Chicago.

This Safe received the highest premium—a silver medal at the Fair of the New York State Agricultural Society which was held at Albany, September 1850. Also a medal and diploma for the best burglar and fire proof safe at the same Fair held at Utica, for 1852.

Raymond, Ward Co., will receive orders for [illegible] Fire and Thief Proof Bank and Vault Doors. do18

This is to certify that on the 25th of September last we purchased of H. D. Rice, Esq., one of Mr. J. McB. Davidson's Fire Kings (No 4 Single Flange); that on the 14th of November past it was subjected to a very severe test in the burning of our warehouse, in which was stored a large quantity of whisky and other combustible materials. On opening the safe we found all our papers, consisting notes letters and receipts, perfect and entirely legible.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT

THIS EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IS STILL working wonders throughout the World—eradicating everything in the form of disease that comes within the circle of its influence.

The People Themselves

have long since adopted it as the only external remedy they could rely upon, and the indisputable testimony of thousands is fast sweeping away

The Prejudices of the Faculty.

It is extensively used by the Ladies,
It is used by Mechanics and Laboring men,
It is used in families and factories,
It is used expressly by all Express Companies,
It is used by Farmers and Livery stable keepers,
It is used by every body, and all speak in its praise,
Where it is used, pain cannot exist,
The benumbed limbs are made elastic,
The deep ulcers and frightful sores are healed,
The unstrung nerves are made to vibrate with joy!

Use the Mustang Liniment.

Is the spontaneous advice of all.

It has cured more cases of

Rheumatism

than any other medicine ever used. Its efficacy in this terrible disease is acknowledged by all who have used it. It not only cures the complaint, but appears to give vigor and elasticity to the limbs, before unknown—thus performing a double office.

For contractions of the limbs, stiffness of the joints and muscles, hard lumps, swellings and inflammations, it is unrivalled in the power and efficacy of its operations.

For Bruises, Sprains, Cuts, Scalds and Burns, but a few applications are necessary in order to effect a total cure.

Cancer, or Scrofulous Sores, Tetter, Ringworms, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Erysipelas, Boils, and Eruptions, can generally be removed in a few days—and the worst cases can be cured in a few weeks at the farthermost. Persons afflicted with these diseases, should be careful in getting the right article to cure them.

Use it upon Your Horses,

for spavin, splint, ring-bone, fistula, wind-galls, big-heads, bruises, strains, string halt, scratches, cracked heels, sweeney, saddle, collar, or harness galls, hard lumps or tumors, film or other diseases of the eye, poll-evil, &c.

The finest horses in the city of New York will be found in the stables of the various Express Companies—and they all use

The Mustang Liniment,

totally discarding any other preparations of the kind, and have all given their certificate in its favor.

This we presume will be a sufficient guarantee to induce every one who owns a horse, to give the Mustang a trial.

THERE is no Druggist or Country Store keeper
Who pretends to keep medicine at all;
But what keeps a constant supply of the Mexican Mustang Liniment.
The small size retail for 25 cents per bottle,
The medium sized retail for 50 cents per bottle,
The large sized retail for one dollar per bottle,
The medium hold three times as much as the small.
The large holds nearly three times as much as the medium;
Therefore the largest bottles are the cheapest

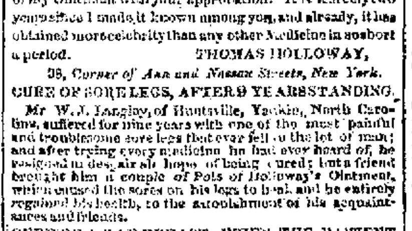
A CURE FOR ALL!!



HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Citizens of the Union:

You have done me the honor with one voice, from one end of the Union to the other to stamp the character of my Ointment with your approbation. It is scarcely two years since I made it known among you, and already, it has obtained more celebrity than any other Medicine in so short a period. THOMAS HOLLOWAY,

38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New York.

CURE OF SORE LEGS, AFTER 9 YEARS STANDING.

Mr W. J. Langley, of Huntsville, Yadkin, North Carolina, suffered for nine years with one of the most painful and troublesome sore legs that ever fell to the lot of man; and after trying every medicine he had ever heard of, he resigned in despair all hope of being cured; but a friend brought him a couple of Pots of Holloway's Ointment, which caused the sores on his legs to heal and he entirely regained his health, to the astonishment of his acquaintances and friends.

CURE OF A BAD BREAST, WHEN THE PATIENT WAS AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Mr. B. DURANT, of New Orleans, addressed Professor H. as follows:—For 7 years my wife had a bad breast, with ten running wounds, (not of a cancerous nature,) I was told that nothing could save her; she was then induced to use your Ointment and Pills, when in the short space of three months, they effected a perfect cure, to the astonishment of all who knew us. We obtained your Medicines from Messrs. Wright & Co., of Chartres st., New Orleans. I send this from "Hotel des Princes," Paris, although I had written it at New Orleans, before we finally left, not knowing your address at New York.
Nov. 9th, 1853. (Signed) B. DURANT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Contracted and	Lumbago	Sore-throat
Bad Breasts	Stiff Joints	Piles	Skin-diseases
Burns	Fistulas	Rheumatism	Scurvy
Bunions	Gout	Salt Rheum	Sore-heads
Chilblains	Glandular-	Scalds	Ulcers
Chapped hands	swellings	Sore nipples	Wounds.

 Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New York; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States, in Pots, at 37½ cents, 87 cents, and $1.50 cents each. To be had Wholesale of the principal Drug Houses in the Union.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

PATENT MEDICINES

MEDICATED INHALATION
A NEW METHOD.

A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. CURTIS, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr. CURTIS's HYGEANA, or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most wonderful cures of Asthma and Consumption in the City of New York and vicinity for a few months past, ever known to man.—It is producing an impression on Diseases of the Lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession. [See certificates in hands of Agents.]

The Inhaler is worn on the breast, under the linen, without the least inconvenience, the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid,—supplying the lungs constantly with a healing and agreeable vapor, passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs that cannot possibly be reached by any other medicine. Here is a case of

ASTHMA CURED.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 20th, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in a bed, getting what rest I could sitting in my chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr. Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffering for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued it with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is,—TRY IT.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27th, 1853.

I came to New York in the ship Telegraph; my native place is St. John, New Brunswick; when I reached this city, my health was very poor; had a very bad cough, raised a great deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood; had pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends and physician pronounced my case Consumption; and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life.—Soon after wearing the Inhaler, I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the Inhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, I feel unwilling at present to dispense with it. JOHN WOOD.

Sold by BOYD & PAUL, No. 40 Cortlandt street; C. H. RING, corner of John street and Broadway, N. Y. Price $3 a package.

N. B.—Any person inclosing $3 to BOYD & PAUL, or CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, will receive a package containing a bottle of Hygean Vapor, one of Cherry Syrup, and an Inhaler, in a neat box, by express, free to any part of the United States; or four packages for $10. feb3-1yd&w

MEDICATED INHALATION!
CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, AS TREATED BY
DR. E. N. TRIST,
WITH HIS CELEBRATED
HYGEN & OXYGENIC VAPOR!

DR TRIST, Graduate of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, and the recipient of diplomas from the Lung Institution of Edinburgh, and Hotel des Invalides of Paris, having settled permanently in New York for the practice of his profession, begs leave to suggest to the citizens of the United States that several years of study and successful experiments in England and Scotland, as well as other parts of Europe, with Consumption in all its forms, enable him to warrant, not only relief, but a complete cure to all those suffering with this great national disease.

Dr. TRIST deems it unprofessional to advertise; but others having represented themselves as the originators of the Inhalation Treatment, he would say to the afflicted that he alone is entitled to its first introduction, and would caution all against using the useless and dangerous compounds advertised by incompetent persons.

"Take up thy bed and walk!"

Dr. TRIST would say to those interested, that he has had manufactured, for the use of his patrons, his "Patent Inhaling Tubes," through which the vapor is conveyed to the parts affected, and which he earnestly commends for the cheering results which have attended their use; and the fact that they may be used by the most feeble invalid without any unpleasant symptoms.

To those residing out of the city, Dr. Trist will forward one of the Inhaling Tubes, together with a package of the Vapor, sufficient to last for three months, accompanied with ample directions for use, on receipt of a letter containing Ten Dollars, and describing symptoms.

A cure is warranted in all stages of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all other affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. In case of failure, the money will be returned.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Afflicted Everywhere,

DR. A. L. ADAMS' LIVER BALSAM
COMES GREETING!

DR. A. L. ADAMS' NEW CURE FOR DISEASE is awakening the inquiry in the minds of all who read it. How is it that Americans have been so long and so lavishly immured in darkness and ignorance on the subject of disease.

DR. A. L. ADAMS' LIVER BALSAM.

The great Panacea of Disease is offered to the afflicted of the States and Territories for the entire cure of Liver Complaints in all stages, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Chronic Lung Fever, Dropsical Affections, Coughs, Consumption, Asthma, Jaundice, Bowel Complaints, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Salt Rheum Dyspepsia, General Debility, Nervousness, Costiveness, Indigestion, Female Complaints, &c.

Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam now sustains the highest reputation of any remedy before the public and has proved to the most skeptical, beyond a shadow of doubt that it is the only reliable medicine ever discovered! (being purely vegetable) for the permanent cure of the above disease. The most skeptical have become its most sanguine votaries, and pronounce the Liver Balsam to be the only reliable harbinger of health to the afflicted everywhere.

Testimonials come up from every track it has made, swollen with expressions of gratitude for the relief received by its use. And, in submitting this, the Liver Balsam is recommended to those suffering under the iron grasp of the monster disease, and at once procure one bottle of Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam.

The reader's attention is called to the perusal of the Medical Circular, which can be obtained of every agent throughout the United States, giving a clear epitome of the causes and cure of disease; also, of certificates of those who have tested its unparalleled ascendency over the diseases to which we are all subject.

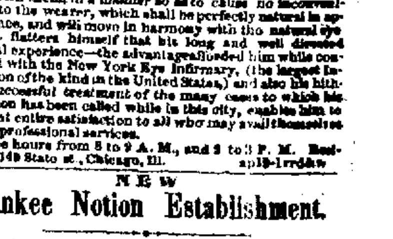
A. B. NEWKIRK, M. D.,



Oculist and Ophthalmic Surgeon,
No. 17 Metropolitan Buildings, La Salle Street,

TENDERS his professional services to all those who are afflicted with any of the various diseases to which the Eye is subject. He will operate in the most approved manner for CATARACT, STRABISMUS, (Cross-eye,) or any other condition of that organ requiring surgical aid. He will also adjust ARTIFICIAL EYES for those who wish them, in a manner so as to cause no inconvenience to the wearer, which shall be perfectly natural in appearance, and will move in harmony with the natural eye. Dr. N. flatters himself that his long and well directed clinical experience—the advantages afforded him while connected with the New York Eye Infirmary, (the largest institution of the kind in the United States,) and also his hitherto successful treatment of the many cases to which his attention has been called while in this city, enables him to warrant entire satisfaction to all who may avail themselves of his professional services.

EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS
TO
The Reading Public.

Either of the following five works will be sent free of postage, on receipt of the price annexed.

The Abduction Trials, and Adventures of Faynetta Mandeville,

Wife of Augustus H. Mandeville, of Baltimore, who was stolen from her husband at Bogota, New Grenada, by a band of Spanish Robbers, and by them detained in their mountain fastnesses for thirteen months, there having gone through the most terrible scenes that the imagination can picture; the whole, forming the most truly wonderful narrative of actual occurrences ever yet placed before the reading community. Written by her Husband—Price 12½ cents.

A THRILLING AND STARTLING WORK!

The Authentic Confessions of William Masterson,

The Cruel Murderer of his Father and Mother! Together with a complete account of his various Robberies and Murders, including that of Mr. Manning, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the cruel murder of Miss Emma Martin. Added to which is the history of the most fiendish Murderer, and expert Burglar and Pickpocket, Thomas Little, the accomplice of Masterson. Price 12½ cents.

The Beautiful Jewess, Rachel Mendoza.

Her lamentable connection with the dark and eventful career of Charles Bernard, otherwise called "Prince Charles," by George Lippard, the extermination of whose adventures in Madrid, near the Palace of the Queen, has created so much comment, and such intense interest in the American press.

Thousands throughout the United States are familiar with portions of the career of "Prince Charles," but this narrative sets out in plain colors his whole career, especially his connection with the rich and beautiful Jewess, Rachel Mendoza, who only a year mingled in the first circles of New York. After relating his adventures in the United States, this narrative conducts us to Madrid, to the Royal Court of Spain, revealing the secrets of the life of Queen Isabella. Price 15 cents.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES! MYSTERIES SOLVED!

ON THE HISTORY OF
ESTHER LIVINGSTONE,

And dark career of Henry Baldwin. By George Lippard. This narrative not only pictures the singular career of Esther Livingstone, and the crimes of Henry Baldwin, but the scenes in which they were actors in the Mammoth Cave, are related by the wretched Baldwin, in a bold, truthful, but absorbing style. And the murder of Miss Annie Hanly, in Charleston, on the night of her marriage, is in these pages terribly explained. Price 15 cts.

The Rival's Revenge! or The Lovely Quakeress;
CATHARINE MIDDLETON,

The Skill of Gennester in Disguise. Her singular career with the startling developments in the life of Don Senor Jacinto, "The Maniac Priest." Price 12½ cents.

THE VERY LATEST!

SECOND ARRIVAL OF Fall and Winter Goods

THE CITIZENS OF MILWAUKEE AND VICINITY never had presented such opportunities for purchasing

Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods,

as we are now able to offer.

A REDUCTION OF ONE HALF
IN THE PRICE OF FOREIGN GOODS
FROM THE IMPORTATION COST!

On account of the general prostration of trade in England and Europe, consequent upon the diversion of the precious metals from commerce to carry on the War in the East, large consignments of goods have been made to the United States, with orders to close them up for CASH, AT WHATEVER SACRIFICE.

ADLER & NEWBOUER,

have purchased largely of these goods, and are now offer nearly all kinds of Imported Goods at about Half the Manufacturing Cost!

Rich Plaid, Plain and Brochade SILKS, such as cost from 67½ cents to two dollars to import, are now selling from 3s up. Turk Satins at 6s cost 10s to import.

French Merinoes, All Wool, best goods imported, for 5s to $1 and equal to any sold last season at 8s to 10s.

[illegible], an elegant assortment, from 5s to $2,50.

Wool, Worsted and Raw Silk Plaids, double width, choicest goods imported. 1s 6d to 5s, and equal to anything sold last season at from 3s to 12s.

Paramettas for 1s, 1s 6d and 2s, that are as good as any ever before sold in this country at 2s 6d, 3s and 4s. A dress from 8s to 12s, as good as could be obtained last year at 20s to $3,50.

Rich Embroideries at a very great reduction from former rates.

All Wool Delaines at 2s worth 4s and upwards.

Lace Curtains, richest goods ever imported, we are now selling at the price of common material.

One Shilling Calicoes at 6d.

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets, Kentucky Jeans at a great reduction in price.

Blanket Shawls, Brocha Shawls & Scarfs.

Our stock of Brocha Shawls cannot be equalled this side of New York. We sell good all wool Brocha Shawls at $5 and defy competition. Also best quality, as high as $65 to $75. And the richest assortment of

Satin, Cloth and Silk Velvet Cloaks, at astonishing low prices. Making altogether the largest and most desirable stock of ever exhibited in this market, from which Families, Merchants and Pedlars can supply their wants for one half the money required to purchase the same last year. Don't forget the place, NEAR THE AMERICAN,

DRY GOODS

COOK STOVE,

I have sold the B. J. for the past three years. It has been thoroughly tested by thousands who will testify that it is the most complete Cook Stove that can be. I have four sizes of B. J. There is a summer attachment to the stove which will make half difference less of the amount of fuel used in the Summer season and does away with all unnecessary heat which other stoves make that have not the attachment. The oven is much larger than any other stove of the same size furniture. I warrant the stove to give complete satisfaction, if not, to be returned and money refunded. FireKing Safe, again Triumphant.

$1,000 will be paid, if reliable evidence is shown where they ever failed to protect valuable rom Fire, where as other makers' Safes have proved worthless in various accidental and experimental tests, some of which occurred recently.

Read the following from Messrs. A. McClure & Co., wholesale and extensive dealers in Drugs, Medicines, &c.

ALBANY, July. 27, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 23d day of July, 1852, our entire Stock, composed of Turpentine, Alcohol, Oil, Patent Medicines, &c., was consumed by fire; so rapid and severe was the fire that we were unable to close one safe until Mr. Pohlman subsequently entered at the peril of his life and closed the doors.

After forcing the safe open after all this exposure and fire, which made us so careful for the safety of its contents, its valuables were found uninjured.

We have so much confidence in the security of the Fire King, that we shall have it immediately replaced.

A. McCLURE & CO.
ALBANY, Dec. 19, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 7th day of May, 1851, I purchased of J. McB. Davidson, No. 7, single flange Safe, and that the same was subjected to a severe test on the 18th of December, 1851. After the fire was extinguished, its contents (books and papers,) were examined, and found to be perfectly preserved—not a leaf of my books being scorched.

P. J. CLAASSEN,
Importer of Wines, Cigars, &c., Broadway, Albany.

After an examination of P. J. Claassen's Safe and papers, we are convinced of the superiority of Davidson's Safes over all others.

This Safe received the highest premium—a silver medal at the Fair of the New York State Agricultural Society which was held at Albany, September 1850. Also a medal and diploma for the best burglar and fire proof safe at the same Fair held at Utica, for 1852.

Raymond, Ward Co., will receive orders for [illegible] Fire and Thief Proof Bank and Vault Doors. del8

This is to certify that on the 25th of September last we purchased of H. D. Rice, Esq., one of Mr. J. McB. Davidson's Fire Kings (No 4 Single Flange); that on the 14th of November past it, was subjected to a very severe test in the burning of our warehouse, in which was stored a large quantity of whisky and other combustible materials. On opening the safe we found all our papers, consisting notes letters and receipts, perfect and entirely legible.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT

THIS EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IS STILL working wonders throughout the World—eradicating everything in the form of disease that comes within the circle of its influence.

The People Themselves

have long since adopted it as the only external remedy they could rely upon, and the indisputable testimony of thousands is fast sweeping away

The Prejudices of the Faculty.

It is extensively used by the Ladies,
It is used by Mechanics and Laboring men,
It is used in families and factories,
It is used expressly by all Express Companies,
It is used by Farmers and Livery stable keepers,
It is used by every body, and all speak in its praise,
Where it is used, pain cannot exist,
The benumbed Limbs are made elastic,
The deep ulcers and frightful sores are healed,
The unstrung nerves are made to vibrate with joy!

Use the Mustang Liniment.

is the spontaneous advice of all.

It has cured more cases of

than any other medicine ever used. Its efficacy in this terrible disease is acknowledged by all who have used it. It not only cures the complaint, but appears to give vigor and elasticity to the limbs, before unknown—thus performing a double office.

For contractions of the limbs, stiffness of the joints and muscles, hard lumps, swellings and inflammations, it is unrivalled in the power and efficacy of its operations.

For Bruises, Sprains, Cuts, Scalds and Burns, but a few applications are necessary in order to effect a total cure.

Cancer, or Scrofulous Sores, Tetter, Ringworms, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Erysipelas, Boils, and Eruptions, can generally be removed in a few days—and the worst cases can be cured in a few weeks at the furthermost. Persons afflicted with these diseases, should be careful in getting the right article to cure them.

Use it upon Your Horses,

for spavin, splint, ring-bone, fistula, wind-galls, big-heads, bruises, strains, string halt, scratches, cracked heels, sweeney, saddle, collar, or harness galls, hard lumps or tumors, film or other diseases of the eye, poll-evil, &c.

The finest horses in the city of New York will be found in the stables of the various Express Companies—and they all use totally discarding any other preparations of the kind, and have all given their certificate in its favor.

The Mustang Liniment,

This we presume will be a sufficient guarantee to induce every one who owns a horse, to give the Mustang a trial.

THERE is no Druggist or Country Store keeper
Who pretends to keep medicine at all;
But what keeps a constant supply of the Mexican Mustang Liniment.
The small size retail for 25 cents per bottle,
The medium sized retail for 50 cents per bottle,
The large sized retail for one dollar per bottle,
The medium holds three times as much as the small.
The large holds nearly three times as much as the medium;
Therefore the largest bottles are the cheapest

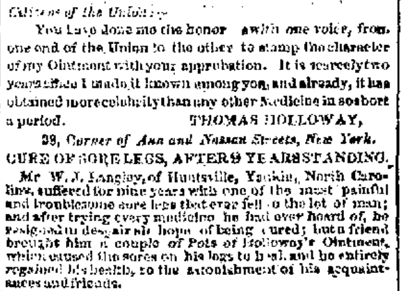
A CURE FOR ALL!!



HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Citizens of the Union:—

You have done me the honor with one voice, from one end of the Union to the other to stamp the character of my Ointment with your approbation. It is scarcely two years since I made it known among you, and already, it has obtained more celebrity than any other Medicine in so short a period. THOMAS HOLLOWAY,

38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New York.

CURE OF SORE LEGS, AFTER 9 YEARS STANDING.

Mr W. J. Langley, of Huntsville, Yadkin, North Carolina, suffered for nine years with one of the most painful and troublesome sore legs that ever fell to the lot of man; and after trying every medicine he had ever heard of, he resigned in despair all hope of being cured; but a friend brought him a couple of Pots of Holloway's Ointment, which caused the sores on his legs to heal, and he entirely regained his health, to the astonishment of his acquaintances and friends.

CURE OF A BAD BREAST, WHEN THE PATIENT WAS AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Mr. R. DURANT, of New Orleans, addressed Professor H[olloway], as follows:—For 7 years my wife had a bad breast, with ten running wounds, (not of a cancerous nature,) I was told that nothing could save her; she was then induced to use your Ointment and Pills, when in the short space of three months, they effected a perfect cure, to the astonishment of all who knew us. We obtained your Medicines from Messrs. Wright & Co. of Chartres st., New Orleans. I send this from "Hotel des Princes," Paris, although I had written it at New Orleans, before we finally left, not knowing your address at New York.
Nov. 9th, 1853. (Signed) R. DURANT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Contracted and	Lumbago	Sore-throat
Bad Breasts	Stiff Joints	Piles	Skin-diseases
Burns	Fistulas	Rheumatism	Scurvy
Bunions	Gout	Salt Rheum	Sore-heads
Chilblains	Glandular	Scalds	Ulcers
Chapped hands	swellings	Sore nipples	Wounds.

 Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New York; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United states, in Pots, at 37½ cents, 87 cents, and $1.50 cents each. To be had Wholesale of the principal Drug Houses in the Union.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

PATENT MEDICINES

MEDICATED INHALATION
A NEW METHOD.

A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. CURTIS, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr. CURTIS's HYGEANA, or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most wonderful cure of Asthma and Consumption in the City of New York and vicinity for a few months past, ever known to man.—It is producing an impression on Diseases of the Lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession. (See certificates in hands of Agents.)

The Inhaler is worn on the breast, under the linen, without the least inconvenience, the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid,—supplying the lungs constantly with a healing and agreeable vapor, passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs that cannot possibly be reached by any other medicine. Here is a case of

ASTHMA CURED.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 20th, 1852

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in a bed, getting what rest I could sitting in my chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr. Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffering for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued it with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is,—TRY IT.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27th, 1852.

I came to New York in the ship Telegraph; my native place is St. John, New Brunswick; when I reached this city, my health was very poor; had a very bad cough, raised a great deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood; had pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends and physician pronounced my case Consumption, and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life.—Soon after wearing the Inhaler, I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the Inhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued so to do, my cough gradually growing better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, I feel unwilling at present to dispense with it. JOHN WOOD.

Sold by BOYD & PAUL, No. 40 Cortlandt street; C. H. RING, corner of John street and Broadway, N. Y. Price $3 a package.

N. B.—Any person inclosing $3 to BOYD & PAUL, or CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, will receive a package containing a bottle of Hygean Vapor, one of Cherry Syrup, and an Inhaler, in a neat box, by express, free to any part of the United States; or four packages for $10. feb3-1yd&w

MEDICATED INHALATION!

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, AS TREATED BY
DR. E. N. TRIST,
WITH HIS CELEBRATED
HYGEN & OXYGENIC VAPOR!

DR. TRIST, Graduate of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, and the recipient of diplomas from the Lung Institution of Edinburgh, and Hotel des Invalides of Paris, having settled permanently in New York for the practice of his profession, begs leave to suggest to the citizens of the United States that several years of study and successful experiments in England and Scotland, as well as other parts of Europe, with Consumption in all its forms, enable him to warrant, not only relief, but a complete cure to all those suffering with this great national disease.

Dr. TRIST deems it unprofessional to advertise; but others having represented themselves as the originators of the Inhalation Treatment, he would say to the afflicted that he alone is entitled to its first introduction, and would caution all against using the useless and dangerous compounds advertised by incompetent persons.

"Take up thy bed and walk:"

Dr. TRIST would say to those interested, that he has had manufactured, for the use of his patrons, his "Patent Inhaling Tubes," through which the vapor is conveyed to the parts affected, and which he earnestly commends for the cheering results which have attended their use; and the fact that they may be used by the most feeble invalid without any unpleasant symptoms.

To those residing out of the city, Dr. Trist will forward one of the Inhaling Tubes, together with a package of the Vapor, sufficient to last for three months, accompanied with ample directions for use, on receipt of a letter containing Ten Dollars, and describing symptoms.

A cure is warranted in all stages of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all other affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. In case of failure, the money will be returned.

Address (post paid) DR. E. N. TRIST, 63 Grand-st., New York City. dec21-dtmar1'55

HIGHLY IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Afflicted Everywhere,
DR. A. L. ADAMS' LIVER BALSAM
COMES GREETING!

DR. A. L. ADAMS' NEW CURE FOR DISEASE is awakening the inquiry in the minds of all who read it. How is it that Americans have been so long and so lavishly immured in darkness and ignorance on the subject of disease.

DR. A. L. ADAMS' LIVER BALSAM.

The great Panacea of Disease is offered to the [illegible] of the States and Territories for the entire cure of Liver Complaints in all stages, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Chronic Lung Fever, Dropsical Affections, Coughs, Consumption, Asthma, Jaundice, Bowel Complaints, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Salt Rheum Dyspepsia, General Debility, Nervousness, Costiveness, Indigestion, Female Complaints, &c.

Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam now sustains the highest reputation of any remedy before the public and has proved to the most skeptical, beyond a shadow of doubt that it is the only reliable medicine ever discovered! (being purely vegetable) for the permanent cure of the above disease. The most skeptical have become its most sanguine votaries, and pronounce the Liver Balsam to be the only reliable harbinger of health to the afflicted everywhere.

Testimonials come up from every track it has made, swollen with expressions of gratitude for the relief received by its use. And, in submitting this, the Liver Balsam is recommended to those suffering under the iron grasp of the monster disease, and at once procure one bottle of Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam.

The reader's attention is called to the perusal of the Medical Circular, which can be obtained of every agent throughout the United States, giving a clear epitome of the causes and cure of disease; also, of certificates of those who have tested its unparalleled ascendency over the diseases to which we are all subject.
